Affective Labour Assembling Distance Difference:

Affective Labour James M. Thomas, Jennifer G. Correa, 2015-12-11 Affective Labour explores four distinct landscapes in order to demonstrate how collective feelings are organized by social actors in order to both reproduce and contest hegemony Utilizing a variety of methods including participant observation in depth interviews across field sites and content analysis of mass media Correa and Thomas demonstrate the centrality of affective labor in enabling and constraining prevailing norms and practices of race citizenship class gender and sexuality across multiple spatial contexts the U S Mexico border urban nightlife districts American college campuses and emergent social movements against the police state The book demonstrates how the power of affective labour might be harnessed for progressively oriented world building projects including what the authors term an affective labour from below By tying an analysis of affective labour into movements for social justice the authors aim to produce a critical theory of the world that can be practically applied

Motivations for Refusal Mark Gawne, 2025-05-01 In Motivations for Refusal Work Value and the Limits of Postworkerism Mark Gawne develops a critical account of how the affective politics of capital and class are formed and contested in contemporary arrangements of work and offers a comprehensive critique of the postworkerist school of autonomist Marxism Drawing on value critique and class composition analysis the book challenges core assumptions of postworkerism and related theories of affective labour while retaining their core insights Moving beyond the limits of postworkerism Gawne analyses how the integration of the affective sciences into management and workplace technologies constitutes a terrain of contestation in conditions of immaterial production Motivations for Refusal explores how affective politics emerge in the contestation between labour and capital in their affective modes

Diversity Regimes James M. Thomas, 2020-05-15 In Diversity Regimes James M Thomas uncovers a complex combination of meanings practices and actions that work to institutionalize universities commitments to diversity but in doing so obscure entrench and even magnify existing racial inequalities Drawing on two years of ethnographic field work at so called Diversity University Thomas provides new insights into the social organization of multicultural principles and practices be practically applied Contingent Kinship Kathryn A. Mariner, 2019-04-30 Based on ethnographic fieldwork at a small Chicago adoption agency specializing in transracial adoption Contingent Kinship charts the entanglement of institutional structures and ideologies of family race and class to argue that adoption is powerfully implicated in the question of who can have a future in the twenty first century United States With a unique focus on the role that social workers and other professionals play in mediating relationships between expectant mothers and prospective adopters Kathryn A Mariner develops the concept of intimate speculation a complex assemblage of investment observation and anticipation that shapes the adoption process into an elaborate mechanism for creating dissolving and exchanging imagined futures Shifting the emphasis from adoption s outcome to its conditions of possibility this insightful ethnography places the practice of domestic adoption within a temporal economic and affective framework in order to interrogate the social inequality and power dynamics that render adoption and the families it produces possible Affective Labour James M. Thomas, Jennifer G. Correa, 2016 Affective Labour explores four distinct landscapes in order to demonstrate how collective feelings are organized by social actors in order to both reproduce and contest hegemony Utilizing a variety of methods including participant observation in depth interviews across field sites and content analysis of mass media Correa and Thomas demonstrate the centrality of affective labor in enabling and constraining prevailing norms and practices of race citizenship class gender and sexuality across multiple spatial contexts the U S Mexico border urban nightlife districts American college campuses and emergent social movements against the police state The book demonstrates how the power of affective labour might be harnessed for progressively oriented world building projects including what the authors term an affective labour from below By tying an analysis of affective labour into movements for social justice the authors aim to produce a critical theory of the world that can be practically applied Digital Repertoires Riitta Hänninen, Sakari Taipale, Laura Haapio-Kirk, 2025-06-16 Digital Repertoires explores the intersection between ageing and technology presenting the concept of digital repertoire as a powerful tool for researchers across disciplines such as anthropology sociology gerontology public policy communication studies and design This book offers new theoretical and empirical insights and highlights the diverse ways in which older adults engage with digital technologies across five continents With studies from Australia Brazil Finland Japan the Philippines and Sweden the book provides a global and cross cultural analysis on a pressing issue The notion of the digital repertoire has broad appeal making this book relevant not only to scholars and practitioners focused on ageing but to anyone interested in the heterogeneity of digital technology use across different age groups and cultural contexts With a balanced approach that combines conceptual theoretical and empirical perspectives this volume is an essential resource for teaching research and practice in the ever evolving field of digital technology studies as well as the development of technology for older adults Are Racists Crazy? Sander L. Gilman, James Thomas, 2018-09-04 The connection and science behind race racism and mental illness In 2012 an interdisciplinary team of scientists at the University of Oxford reported that based on their clinical experiment the beta blocker drug Propranolol could reduce implicit racial bias among its users Shortly after the experiment an article in Time Magazine cited the study posing the question Is racism becoming a mental illness In Are Racists Crazy Sander Gilman and James Thomas trace the idea of race and racism as psychopathological categories from mid 19th century Europe to contemporary America up to the aforementioned clinical experiment at the University of Oxford and ask a slightly different question than that posed by Time How did racism become a mental illness Using historical archival and content analysis the authors provide a rich account of how the 19th century Sciences of Man including anthropology medicine and biology used race as a means of defining psychopathology and how assertions about race and madness became embedded within disciplines that deal with mental health and illness An illuminating and riveting history of the discourse on racism antisemitism and psychopathology Are Racists Crazy connects past and present claims about race and racism showing the dangerous implications of this specious line of thought for today

Ageing with Smartphones in Japan Laura Haapio-Kirk, 2024-08-29 Older adults in Japan one of the most ageing countries in the world are starting to adopt the smartphone What does this mean for friendship gendered labour multigenerational living internal migration health and indeed purpose in life ikigai Based on 16 months of ethnographic research in urban Kyoto and in rural K chi Prefecture Ageing with Smartphones in Japan follows people as they navigate social and personal shifts post retirement Examining how older women and men negotiate oppressive structures within society the smartphone emerges as both challenging and perpetuating gender based norms around care In witnessing the response of older adults to the wider context of societal ageing and the various forms of precarity that it can engender this book observes how people creatively navigate the challenges and opportunities of later life to define their own experience of ageing The rise of digital visual communication among people in their 50s and older opens new possibilities for sociality and proximity among friends and family It also presents a methodological challenge for researchers This book responds with a series of graphic methodological experimentations including co created comics participant drawings and the author s own fieldwork sketches and imaginative illustrations to explore this fundamental shift in communication towards digital images Praise for Ageing with Smartphones in Japan An excellent and thoughtful book on ageing in Japan focusing on the use of smartphones but not limited to it The truly innovative use of graphic and multimodal ethnography is not only effective but also showcases such methods for others Iza Kaved ija University of Cambridge Highly original extensively researched and thought provoking Haapio Kirk rewards the reader with lively story telling and beautifully crafted images that invite another level of sensory and emotional engagement an impressive achievement Jason Danely Oxford Brookes University
