Architecture In Europe Since 1968 Memory And Invention:

Architecture in Europe Since 1968 Alexander Tzonis, Liane Lefaivre, 1992 A comprehensive survey of architectural projects during a time of great ferment from the student movements and political upheaval of 1968 to the official unification of Europe in 1992 Following an extensive introductory essay by the authors four invited essays address the major issues of the period urban context and change typology technology ecology Some 75 individual projects are then presented each accompanied by a critical essay together with photographs drawings site diagrams and construction details 9x12 1/2 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Architecture in Europe Alexander Tzonis, Liane Lefaivre, 1992

A Critical History of Contemporary Architecture Elie G. Haddad, David Rifkind, 2016-12-05 1960 following as it did the last CIAM meeting signalled a turning point for the Modern Movement From then on architecture was influenced by seminal texts by Aldo Rossi and Robert Venturi and gave rise to the first revisionary movement following Modernism Bringing together leading experts in the field this book provides a comprehensive critical overview of the developments in architecture from 1960 to 2010 It consists of two parts the first section providing a presentation of major movements in architecture after 1960 and the second a geographic survey that covers a wide range of territories around the world This book not only reflects the different perspectives of its various authors but also charts a middle course between the aesthetic histories that examine architecture solely in terms of its formal aspects and the more ideological histories that subject it to a critique that often skirts the discussion of its formal aspects Times of Creative Destruction Alexander Tzonis, Liane Lefaivre, 2016-12-08 Times of Creative Destruction is about the years that followed the end of WWII one of the most seminal and dramatic epochs in human history during which extraordinary star buildings were born cities exploded and an unprecedented world of a Third Ecology emerged Never before was there such a flurry of daring mega constructions such daring spatial acrobatics star buildings by star architects attained by star developers mega constructions technological feats and flourishing spatial acrobatics But for all its exhilarating creativity this was also an era of unanticipated intractable irreversible destruction reducing the uniqueness and diversity of cultural social and ecological peaks and valleys of our world to a desert flatland environmental inequality and unhappiness This book critically discusses and reevaluates these contradictory events bringing together and commenting on a selection of shorter key texts by Tzonis and Lefaivre the product of a rare research and writing partnership The texts published between the early 1960s and the present are significant as documents that inform about the period They are also important and timely because of their critical and influential role in the debates of this era both creative and destructive World Architecture Richard Ingersoll, 2019 World Architecture provides the most comprehensive and contemporary survey of the field Each chapter is organized chronologically and focuses on three unique architectural cultures simultaneously providing instructors with flexibility and offering students a comprehensive method for understanding and appreciating the history cultural significance beauty and diversity of architecture from around the world      The Sociology of Architecture Paul Jones, 2011-01-01 Drawing on sociological theories to assist understanding of how political power operates in the cultural sphere The Sociology of Architecture frames the discipline as a field of symbolic and material conflict over social identities This volume contests the notion of architecture as an apolitical endeavor and suggests that major architectural projects can act as tangible expressions of the ultimately contested nature of collective identities thus shedding light on how those with power both legitimate and mark their position in the world      The Figure of Knowledge Sebastiaan Loosen, Rajesh Heynicks, Hilde Heynen, 2020-10-01 It is a major challenge to write the history of post WWII architectural theory without boiling it down to a few defining paradigms An impressive anthologising effort during the 1990s charted architectural theory mostly via the various theoretical frameworks employed such as critical theory critical regionalism deconstructivism and pragmatism Yet the intellectual contours of what constitutes architectural theory have been constantly in flux It is therefore paramount to ask what kind of knowledge has become important in the recent history of architectural theory and how the resulting figure of knowledge sets the conditions for the actual arguments made The contributions in this volume focus on institutional geographical rhetorical and other conditioning factors They thus screen the unspoken rules of engagement that postwar architectural theory ascribed to      Munich and Memory Gavriel D. Rosenfeld, 2023-12-22 Munich notorious in recent history as the capital of the Nazi movement is the site of Gavriel Rosenfeld's stimulating inquiry into the German collective memory of the Third Reich Rosenfeld shows with the aid of a wealth of photographs how the city's urban form developed after 1945 in direct reflection of its inhabitants evolving memory of the Second World War and the Nazi dictatorship In the second half of the twentieth century the German people's struggle to come to terms with the legacy of Nazism has dramatically shaped nearly all dimensions of their political social and cultural life The area of urban development and the built environment little explored until now offers visible evidence of the struggle By examining the ways in which the people of Munich reconstructed the ruins of their historic buildings created new works of architecture dealt with surviving Nazi buildings and erected new monuments to commemorate the horrors of the recent past Rosenfeld identifies a spectrum of competing memories of the Nazi experience Munich's postwar development was the subject of constant controversy pitting representatives of contending aesthetic and mnemonic positions against one another in the heated battle to shape the city's urban form Examining the debates between traditionalists modernists postmodernists and critical preservationists Rosenfeld shows that the memory of Nazism in Munich has never been repressed but has rather been defined by constant dissension and evolution On balance however he concludes that Munich came to embody in its urban form a conservative view of the past that was inclined to diminish local responsibility for the Third Reich Munich notorious in recent history as the capital of the Nazi movement is the site of Gavriel Rosenfeld's stimulating inquiry into the German collective memory of the Third Reich Rosenfeld shows with the aid of a wealth of photographs how the city's      Resisting Postmodern Architecture Stylianos

Giamarelos,2022-01-10 Since its first appearance in 1981 critical regionalism has enjoyed a celebrated worldwide reception The 1990s increased its pertinence as an architectural theory that defends the cultural identity of a place resisting the homogenising onslaught of globalisation Today its main principles such as acknowledging the climate history materials culture and topography of a specific place are integrated in architects education across the globe But at the same time the richer cross cultural history of critical regionalism has been reduced to schematic juxtapositions of the global with the local Retrieving both the globalising branches and the overlooked cross cultural roots of critical regionalism Resisting Postmodern Architecture resituates critical regionalism within the wider framework of debates around postmodern architecture the diverse contexts from which it emerged and the cultural media complex that conditioned its reception In so doing it explores the intersection of three areas of growing historical and theoretical interest postmodernism critical regionalism and globalisation Based on more than 50 interviews and previously unpublished archival material from six countries the book transgresses existing barriers to integrate sources in other languages into anglophone architectural scholarship In so doing it shows how the periphery was not just a passive recipient but also an active generator of architectural theory and practice Stylianos Giamarelos challenges long held central notions of supposedly international discourses of the recent past and outlines critical regionalism as an unfinished project apposite for the 21st century on the fronts of architectural theory history and historiography

The Usable Past Keith S. Brown,Yannis Hamilakis,2003-01-01 In this volume K S Brown and Yannis Hamilakis bring together scholars of history archaeology and anthropology to explore the located and contextual nature of historical narratives The contributors analyze contested historic rituals building styles and traditions looking through the unique lens of twentieth century Greek identity paying particular attention to the ways these social phenomena and cultural artifacts manifest tension between official and unofficial narratives of the past Though focused on the changing historical basis of Greek culture and identity this work further serves as an important theoretical contemplation of how our view of the past is shaped by our relationship with the present

Transforming Asian Cities Nihal Perera,Wing-shing Tang,2013 While there is no lack of studies on Asian cities the majority focus on financial districts poverty the slum tradition tourism and pollution and use the modern affluent and transforming Western city as the reference point This vast Asian empirical presence is not complemented by a theoretical presence academic discourses overlook common and basic urban processes particularly the production of space place and identity by ordinary citizens Switching the vantage point to Asian cities and citizens Transforming Asian Cities draws attention to how Asians produce their contemporary urban practices identities and spaces as part of resisting responding to and avoiding larger global and national processes Instead of viewing Asian cities in opposition to the Western city and using it as the norm this book instead opts to provincialize mainstream and traditional knowledge It argues that the vast terrain of ordinary actors and spaces which are currently left out should be reflected in academic debates and policy decisions and the local thinking processes that constitute these spaces need to be acknowledged enabled and critiqued The individual chapters illustrate that global spaces are more trans local traditional environments are more modern and Asian spaces are better defined than acknowledged The aim is to develop room for understandings of Asian cities from Asian standpoints especially acknowledging how Asians observe interpret understand and create space in their cities      Postmodern Urbanism Nan Ellin,1999 A comprehensive guide to the scope of contemporary urban design theory in Europe and the USA      Tropical Sustainable Architecture Joo Hwa Bay,Boon Lay Ong,2007-03-14 The tropical belt where large areas of South East Asia India Africa and parts of both North and South America are located forms the biggest landmass in the world and has one of the highest numbers of rapidly developing cities Coincidentally architecture in these regions shares common problems the most easily identifiable being the tropical conditions of climate and natural environment The context for architecture here is fraught with conflicts between tradition and modernization massive influx of rural poor into urban areas poorly managed rapid urban development as well as the cultural and social strain of globalization Many local and overseas architects planners and city fathers are interested in the social and environmental dimensions of these areas that contribute towards short terms solutions and long term sustainable developments This book developed from the first conference of the International Network for Tropical Architecture supplies a wealth of information from experts worldwide covering the cultural environmental and technical aspects of thinking researching and designing for the tropics      Journal of the Society of Architectural Historians Society of Architectural Historians,1992 Includes special issues      Europe After Maastricht Paul Michael Lützeler,1994 Contributors from East and West Europe Russia and the US discuss the impact of the Treaty on the European Union Maastricht Treaty on American European cooperation Topics include the balance of power in NATO monetary union in Europe economic cooperation between Russia and the EC countries environmental policy in Europe and women in the EC b      Useful - Utiles Jacques Ferrier,2004 Experimentation and innovation are essential to the work of Jacques Ferrier Extensive projects such as the waterworks in Joinville or the redesign of the Renault grounds in Guyancourt have contributed to his reputation He has currently been commissioned to do a large number of projects including the completion of the Air France offices and ateliers in Orly industrial buildings in Bordeaux and Valenciennes and the Coll ge de France in Paris Much in demand in France he is now gaining international recognition The preface of the book is by Alexander Tzonis from the University of Technology in Delft and Director of DKS Design Knowledge Systems      Precedented Environmental Futures Colin Porteous,2019-04-17 This book addresses the built environment through the lens of environmental architecture and in a holistic manner It moves gradually from psychophysiology and thinking doing feeling modalities through environmental criteria to environmental modulation concluding with a debate around mitigation and adaptation Much use is made of re interpreting past quotations seen as relevant for environmental architecture No definitive conclusions are reached but rather broad discursive messages are offered The text will have lasting luminance for new generations involved with the built environment      The
