Web Writing Jack Dougherty,Tennyson O'Donnell,2015-04-21 The essays in Web Writing respond to contemporary debates over the proper role of the Internet in higher education steering a middle course between polarized attitudes that often dominate the conversation The authors argue for the wise integration of web tools into what the liberal arts does best writing across the curriculum All academic disciplines value clear and compelling prose whether that prose comes in the shape of a persuasive essay scientific report or creative expression The act of writing visually demonstrates how we think in original and critical ways and in ways that are deeper than those that can be taught or assessed by a computer Furthermore learning to write well requires engaged readers who encourage and challenge us to revise our muddled first drafts and craft more distinctive and informed points of view Indeed a new generation of web based tools for authoring annotating editing and publishing can dramatically enrich the writing process but doing so requires liberal arts educators to rethink why and how we teach this skill and to question those who blindly call for embracing or rejecting technology Writing and Learning in the Science Classroom Carolyn S.
