A. Muqtedar Khan,2019-04-08 This book advances an Islamic political philosophy based on the concept of Ihsan which means to do beautiful things The author moves beyond the dominant model of Islamic governance advanced by modern day Islamists The political philosophy of Ihsan privileges process over structure deeds over identity love over law and mercy and forgiveness over retribution The work invites Muslims to move away from thinking about the form of Islamic government and to strive to create a self critical society that defends national virtue and generates institutions and practices that provide good governance Islam and AIDS Farid Esack,Sarah Chiddy,2009-01-19 Islam and AIDS is the first book to comprehensively address the HIV AIDS pandemic from an Islamic perspective with contributions from a number of internationally known activists and scholars of Islam including Kecia Ali and Abdulaziz Sachedina With an introduction by Peter Piot Director of the Joint United Nations Programme on HIV AIDS this landmark work provides an insight into new possibilities of critical and progressive Islamic approaches in both law and ethics to one of the most urgent crises facing humankind today Covering emotive issues such as gender justice poverty health disease addiction and sexuality Islam and AIDS provides the religious analysis so essential for the communities at the forefront of the epidemic Islam as Education Aaron J.

Ghiloni,2019-08-01 Motivated by the intellectual historian Shahab Ahmed s observation that the history of Islamic paideia has yet to be written Islam as Education explores multiple forms that the search for knowledge and the transmission of wisdom have taken in Islam focusing on the classical period 800 1500 CE Ghiloni draws on a wide range of Islamic primary source material ranging from sacred texts and parables to neglected pedagogical literature and paintings He depicts three Islamic religious practices pilgrimage prophecy and jihad as modes of pedagogy embodied ways of defining defusing and defending sacred knowledge Islam as Education s educational heuristic not only aids in understanding Islam but also provides guidance for intercultural and interreligious relations Ghiloni argues that Islam s grand knowledge tradition serves as a bridge between Muslims and non Muslims and compares it with the educational theory of John Dewey the celebrated American pragmatist Based on this discussion a final chapter develops practical tools for learning from cultural and religious difference

The Teaching and Study of Islam in Western Universities Paul Morris,William Shepard,Paul Trebilco,Toni Tidswell,2013-11-26 Public interest in the religion of Islam and in Muslim communities in recent years has generated an impetus for Western Universities to establish an array of Institutes and programs dedicated to the study of Islam Despite the growth in number of programs dedicated to this study very little attention has been paid to the appropriate shape of such programs and the assumptions that ought to underlie such a study The Teaching and Study of Islam in Western Universities attempts to address two central questions that arise through the teaching of Islam Firstly what relation is there between the study of the religion of Islam and the study of those cultures that have been shaped by that religion Secondly what is the appropriate public role of a scholar of Islam After extensive discussion of these questions the authors then continue to address the wider issues raised for the academic community having to negotiate between competing cultural and philosophical demands This edited collection provides new perspectives on the study of Islam in Western Institutions and will be an invaluable resource for students of Education and Religion in particular Islamic Studies Gender Justice in Islamic Law Musa Usman Abubakar,2018-06-14 This book seeks to interrogate the classical fiqh formulation on gender and homicide with a view to exploring further the debate on whether the so called gender injustice in Islamic law is a human creation or attributable to the divine sources of the Qur an and Sunnah The study is in response to the increasing criticism of the Islamic criminal law regime and the accusation that it discriminates on the basis of gender It argues that any attempt to critique a religious question through the lens of traditional Western human rights ideals would be resisted by the vast majority of Muslims. An examination of the question and any suggested solutions offered would be much more effective if situated within the system they identify with that is to address the question of gender justice deficit from within the Islamic legal tradition. Focusing on Nigeria and Pakistan the book achieves this by drawing on classical fiqh literature contemporary literature legislative sources and relevant case law

Advancing the Legal Status of Women in Islamic Law Mona Samadi, 2021-05-25 Mona Samadi examines the sources of gender differences within the Islamic legal tradition and describes how Islamic law entitles individuals to justice according to their status abilities and potential. In the case of men and women's capabilities the underlying principle is that they are entitled to the same rights as long as their capabilities are the same. In the legal construction of women's status women have been prescribed lacking the same abilities and capabilities as men. As such their status and rights differ justifying men to be the maintainers of women. By presenting the historical development of women's status and how women's legal status is debated in contemporary Muslim societies Mona Samadi convincingly provides various methods for facilitating change within the Islamic legal theory framework

Truth and Transitional Justice Alice Panepinto, 2022-02-24 The Arab uprisings and new and old conflicts in the Middle East and North Africa have sparked an interest in transitional justice in Muslim majority legal systems and its potential to uncover the truth about past abuse and ensure accountability for widespread human rights violations This raises the pressing question of how to implement and adapt the international paradigm of transitional justice and in particular its truth seeking aims to local settings characterised by Muslim majority populations This book offers a critical analysis of the relocation of transitional justice from the international paradigm to the legal systems of Muslim majority societies in light of the inherently pluralistic realities of these contexts it also investigates synergies between international law and Islamic law in furthering the transitional aims of accountability justice and reconciliation through truth seeking In particular this project explores truth seeking the formation of collective memories and the victims right to know the truth as key aims of the international paradigm of transitional justice in relation to Islamic jurisprudence and practices This monograph will provide a useful reference for scholars practitioners and policymakers seeking to analyse and design transitional truth seeking processes in the legal systems of Muslim majority societies

Shari'a Politics Robert W. Hefner, 2011-04-04 One of the most important developments in Muslim politics in recent years has been the spread of movements calling for the implementation of sharia or Islamic law Sharia Politics maps the ideals and organization of these movements and examines their implications for the future of democracy citizen rights and gender relations in the Muslim world These studies of eight Muslim majority societies and state of the field reflections by leading experts provide the first comparative investigation of movements for and against implementation of sharia These essays reveal that the Muslim public's interest in sharia does not spring from an unchanging devotion to received religious tradition but from an effort to respond to the central political and ethical questions of the day
