A Study In Greene Graham Greene And The Art Of The Novel:

A Study in Greene Bernard Bergonzi, 2006-09-07 Bernard Bergonzi has been reading Graham Greene for many years he still possesses the original edition of The End of the Affair that he bought when it was published in 1951 After so much recent attention to Greene's life he believes it is time to return to his writings in this critical study Bergonzi makes a close examination of the language and structure of Greene's novels and traces the obsessive motifs that recur throughout his long career Most earlier criticism was written while Greene was still alive and working and was to some extent provisional as the final shape of his work was not yet apparent In this book Bergonzi is able to take a view of Greene's whole career as a novelist which extended from 1929 to 1988 He believes that Greene's earlier work was his best combining melodrama realism and poetry with Brighton Rock published in 1938 a moral fable that draws on crime fiction and Jacobean tragedy as the masterpiece The novels that Greene published after the 1950s were very professional examples of skilful story telling but represented a decline from this high level of achievement Bergonzi challenges assumptions about the nature of Greene's debt to cinema and attempts to clarify the complexities and contradictions of his religious ideas Although this book engages with questions that arise in academic discussions of Greene it is written with general readers in mind

Dangerous Edges of Graham Greene Dermot Gilvary, Darren J. N. Middleton, 2011-09-15 Gale Researcher Guide for: The Third Man: Graham Greene's Thriller and Its Film Noir Realization by Carol Reed (1949) Richard J. Postmodern Fiction and the Break-Up of Britain Hywel Dix, 2011-11-03 A monograph analysing the symbolic role played by contemporary fiction in the break up of political and cultural consensus in British public life

The Art of Graham Greene Miriam Allott, 1951 The Art of Indirection in British Espionage Fiction Robert Lance Snyder, 2011-07-25 In contrast to the classical detective story the spy novel tends to be considered a suspect somewhat subversive genre While previous studies have focused on its historical thematic and ideological dimensions this critical work examines British espionage fiction's unique narrative form which is typically elliptical oblique and recursive Featured works include eighteen novels by Eric Ambler Graham Greene Len Deighton John le Carré Stella Rimington and Charles Cumming most of which exemplify the existential or serious spy thriller Half of these texts pertain to the Cold War era and the other half to its aftermath in the so called Age of Terrorism

The Works of

Graham Greene Mike Hill, Jon Wise, 2013-03-14 A comprehensive reference guide to the published writings of Graham Greene this book surveys not only Greene's literary work including his fiction poetry and drama but also his other published writings Accessibly organised over five central sections the book provides the most up to date listing available of Greene's journalism his published letters and major interviews The Writings of Graham Greene also includes a bibliography of major secondary writings on Greene and a substantial and fully cross referenced index to aid scholars and researchers working in the field of 20th Century literature

Graham Greene Michael G. Brennan, 2010-03-18 In this significant rereading of Graham Greene's writing career Michael Brennan explores the impact of major issues of Catholic faith and doubt on his work particularly in relation to his portrayal of secular love and physical desire and examines the religious and secular issues and plots involving trust betrayal love and despair Although Greene's female characters have often been underestimated Brennan argues that while sometimes abstract symbolic and two dimensional these figures often prove central to an understanding of the moral personal and spiritual dilemmas of his male characters Finally he reveals how Greene was one of the most generically ambitious writers of the twentieth century experimenting with established forms but also believing that the career of a successful novelist should incorporate a great diversity of other categories of writing Offering a new and original perspective on the reading of Greene's literary works and their importance to English twentieth century fiction this will be of interest to anyone studying Greene

Fails To Engross Our Complete Attention In Each Successive Novel Where He Edifies As Well As Entertains It Will Undoubtedly Prove Valuable To The Students And Researchers Of English Literature Violent Minds Matthew

Levay,2019-01-03 Levay analyzes representations of the criminal in British and American modernism from the late nineteenth century to the 1950s The Cambridge Companion to British Literature of the 1930s James

Smith,2019-12-19 Explores 1930s authors genres and contexts giving fresh attention to well known authors and bringing new writers and approaches to the fore Wandering through Guilt Paola Di Gennaro,2015-06-18 The first comprehensive study on the pattern of guilt and wandering in literature this book examines the relationship between the two complex concepts as they appear in twentieth century novels positing its methodological premises on archetypal criticism and both close and distant reading but also drawing on psychology anthropology mythology and religion This research deciphers a common paradigm and literary representation whose archetype within Western literature is found in the biblical figure of Cain while presenting a critical framework valid for boundary crossing comparative approaches From Graham Greene s The Power and the Glory and Malcolm Lowry s Under the Volcano to Wolfgang Koeppen s Death in Rome and Oka Sh hei s Fires on the Plain this book is not merely a thematic study but an analysis of the literary phenomena that appear in those novels where the sense of guilt is controversially subjective or so collective as to be perceived as universal as is often the case with war and postwar literature Di Gennaro goes beyond the analysis of explicit rewritings of the story of Cain in order to uncover the monomyth through its rhetorical structures and mythical methods The wasteland with no religion the lost abandoned garden the classical and religiously corrupted city and the tropical cannibalistic island at war are the respective settings of these narratives where the issue is neither homelessness nor journeying but rather the desperate and futile movement toward self consciousness or self destruction After the Second World War much was silenced rather than left unsaid This study retraces those silent cries over history through the powerful literary marks of myths Christianity and Western

Literature Ambrose Mong,2023-01-01 Some of the greatest works of Western literature have been inspired or influenced by powerful Christian themes In this fresh evaluation of this relationship and its development over the last two millennia Ambrose Mong studies a series of authors representative of the changing epochs Augustine Dante and Milton all wrote to serve the needs of the Christian community and combine their religious themes with scholarly excellence Meanwhile Shakespeare s plays and Coleridge s The Rime of the Ancient Mariner though not specific to the Christian faith nevertheless betray the dominant Christian values and imagery of their time Finally in Dostoevsky s The Brothers Karamazov and Greene s The Power and the Glory Christianity is put under scrutiny reflecting the increasing insecurity of its place in society Throughout Mong also shows that the themes in these works are to a certain extent universal Creation sin suffering and forgiveness are perennial human concerns beyond the exclusive purview of Christianity and these texts serve to challenge Christian assumptions as much as they are influenced by them Always thorough and sensitive to the unique context of each writer Mong's analysis provides an important grounding in the way Western literature has shaped and been shaped by the religion of its day

David Lodge and the Art-and-Reality Novel Daniel Ammann, 2020-03-31 Two distinctive views emerge concerning the presumed battle between Lodge's creative and critical work One holds that Lodge's fiction is antimodernist and therefore lags behind his criticism which displays a theoretical interest in the modernist and though to a lesser extent in the postmodernist text According to the opposite view time and again there have been strong elements of modernism and postmodernism in Lodge's novels In order to bring together the two lines of Lodge's work this study shall focus on some aspects in his fiction that are also discussed in his criticism Given this interdependence his declared interest in what he calls the art and reality novel can be regarded as a major starting point The emphasis falls on various forms of interplay in the fields of literature criticism and reality Accordingly it should be possible to apply Lodge the theorist to Lodge the novelist and thus bridge or at least explain the alleged division in his work Reader's Guide to Literature in English Mark
