

5 E Lesson Plan:

Engage

Q1: How does a culture effect the formation of art?
Q2:How does individual experience shape the way we view art?
Teacher will show two pictures and ask students to reflect on essential questions (Q1 &Q2) and use descriptive language stems:
Salvador Dalhi's "The Persistence of Memory"
Joan Miro's "The Tilled Field:"

Explore

Place students into their "home" groups
Instruct all to look over the paintings that are on the board together and talk about them using the descriptive language stems & essential questions used in their Engage activity.

Explain

"Who" group: investigate three people to explore (Dali, Miro, and Margaritte)
"What" group: choose three paintings from each of the three Surrealist artists to describe.
"Where" group: looking at Paris and the culture of the city during the 1920s where Surrealism began.

Elaborate

We assign roles for each jigsaw group.
We then break into our jigsaw groups to go to the computers and investigate their topics.
The jigsaw groups create their Prezzi designs on the classroom computers that we will share with our home groups.

Evaluate

We go back to our "home" groups that we were in at the beginning of class and share the Prezzi they made with our "jigsaw" group and our findings from each aspect of the SE; language stems, who, what, where and the essential questions.
