Assessing Writers Knowledge And Processes Of Composing Writing Research:

Assessing Writers' Knowledge and Processes of Composing, 1993 Assessing Writers' Knowledge and Processes of Composing Lester Faigley, 1985 This volume offers a new perspective on the evaluation of writing The first half of the volume reviews research on composing and examines existing methods of evaluating writing The second half sets some limitations in assessing changes in composing processes describes some methods researchers in other areas have used to investigate cognitive processes and outlines a model of writers knowledge that can lead to comprehensive assessments of writing skills Landmark Essays on Writing Process Sondra Perl, 1994 First Published in 1995 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company A Pedagogy of Possibility Kay Halasek, 1999 The author reconceives composition studies from a Bakhtinian perspective focusing on both the discipline s theoretical assumptions and its pedagogies Halasek explores the implications of Bakhtin s work and provides a model of scholarship balanced between practice and theory

Speaking About Writing Alain Coulon, 1994-04-29 This volume makes a powerful case for the analysis of the spoken word as a source of data to study writing The contributors focus on issues involved in the collection analysis and interpretation of data Their approaches go beyond simple quantitative qualitative differences examining the very underpinnings of the various assumptions of distinct methodologies Divided into four major areas of inquiry the book looks at different aspects of conducting think aloud protocol analysis retrospective accounts discourse analysis and interviews in the field Handbook on Measurement, Assessment, and Evaluation in Higher Education Charles Secolsky, D. Brian Denison, 2017-07-31 In this valuable resource well known scholars present a detailed understanding of contemporary theories and practices in the fields of measurement assessment and evaluation with guidance on how to apply these ideas for the benefit of students and institutions Bringing together terminology analytical perspectives and methodological advances this second edition facilitates informed decision making while connecting the latest thinking in these methodological areas with actual practice in higher education This research handbook provides higher education administrators student affairs personnel institutional researchers and faculty with an integrated volume of theory method and application Through the Models of Writing D. Alamargot, L. Chanquoy, 2012-12-06 This book provides both young and senior scientists with a comparative view of current theoretical models of text production Models are clearly situated in their historical context scrutinized in their further evolution with a fine grained observation of differences between models Very complete and informative to read this book will be useful to people working in teaching of writing or studying this specific human activity Designing Writing Tasks for the Assessment of Writing Leo Ruth, Sandra Murphy, 1988 This volume reports the results of a series of investigations of the properties of writing tasks their authors intentions and the responses that these tasks evoked in student writers and teacher raters The volume explains how both student writers and teacher raters in their reading of the same topic text can arrive at different meanings The investigations undertaken led the authors to make a number of recommendations about selecting subjects specifying audience and mode formulating instructions and wording the topic These recommendations are presented in non technical language in a comprehensive set of Guidelines for Designing Topics for Writing Assessments A Rhetoric of Doing Stephen Paul Witte, Neil Nakadate, Roger Dennis Cherry, 1992 Concerned with both the nature and the practice of discourse the eighteen essays collected here treat rhetoric as a dynamic enterprise of inquiry exploration and application and in doing so reflect James L Kinneavy's firm belief in the vital relationship between theory and practice his commitment to a spirit of accommodation and assimilation that promotes the development of ever more powerful theories and ever more useful practices A thorough introduction provides the reader with clear summaries of the essays by leading edge theorists researchers and teachers of writing and rhetoric A field context for the ideas presented in this book is provided through the division of the various chapters into four major sections that focus on classical rhetoric and rhetorical theory in historical contexts on dimensions of discourse theory aspects of discourse communities and the sorts of knowledge people access and use in producing written texts on writing in school related contexts and on several dimensions of nonacademic writing A fifth section contains a bibliographic survey and an appreciation of James Kinneavy's work The exceptional range of these essays makes A Rhetoric of Doing an ecumenical examination of the current state of mind in rhetoric and written communication a survey and description of what discourse and those in the field of discourse are in fact doing Research on Composition Peter Smagorinsky, 2006 Covering the period between 1984 and 2003 this authoritative sequel picks up where the earlier volumes Braddock et al 1963 and Hillocks 1986 now classics in the field left off It features a broader focus that goes beyond the classroom teaching of writing to include teacher research second language writing rhetoric home and community literacy workplace literacy and histories of writing Each chapter is written by an expert in the area reviewed and covers both conventional written composition and multimodal forms of composition including drawing digital forms and other relevant media Research on Composition is an invaluable road map of composition research for the next decade and required reading for anyone teaching or writing about composition today The End of Composition Studies David W Smit, 2007-03-29 Setting forth an innovative new model for what it means to be a writing teacher in the era of writing across the curriculum The End of Composition Studies urges a reconceptualization of graduate work in rhetoric and composition systematically critiques the limitations of current pedagogical practices at the postsecondary level and proposes a reorganization of all academic units David W Smit calls into question two major assumptions of the field that writing is a universal ability and that college level writing is foundational to advanced learning Instead Smit holds writing involves a wide range of knowledge and skill that cannot be learned solely in writing classes but must be acquired by immersion in various discourse communities in and out of academic settings The End of Composition Studies provides a compelling rhetoric and rationale for eliminating the field and reenvisioning the profession as truly interdisciplinary a change that is necessary in order to fulfill the needs and demands of students instructors administrators and our democratic society Literacy David Wray, 2004 This four volume collection reprints key debates about exactly what it means to be literate and how literacy can best be taught Rather than centering on the emotional reaction of mass media debates this set focuses on research findings into processes and pedagogy The themes covered include Literacy its nature and its teaching Reading processes and teaching Writing processes and teaching and New Literacies the impact of technologies Construction Versus Choice in Cognitive Measurement William C. Ward, Randy Elliot Bennett, 2012-10-12 This book brings together psychometric cognitive science policy and content domain perspectives on new approaches to educational assessment in particular constructed response performance testing and portfolio assessment These new assessment approaches a full range of alternatives to traditional multiple choice tests are useful in all types of large scale testing programs including educational admissions school accountability and placement This book s multi disciplinary perspective identifies the potential advantages and pitfalls of these new assessment forms as well as the critical research questions that must be addressed if these assessment methods are to benefit education

Documentation Abstracts ,1985 Assessing Writing to Support Learning Sandra Murphy, Peggy O'Neill, 2022-11-08 In this book authors Murphy and O'Neill propose a new way forward moving away from high stakes test based writing assessment and the curriculum it generates and toward an approach to assessment that centers on student learning and success Reviewing the landscape of writing assessment and existing research based theories on writing the authors demonstrate how a test based approach to accountability and current practices have undermined effective teaching and learning of writing This book bridges the gap between real world writing that takes place in schools college and careers and the writing that students are asked to do in standardized writing assessments to offer a new ecological approach to writing assessment Murphy and O'Neill s new way forward turns accountability inside out to help teachers understand the role of formative assessments and assessment as inquiry It also brings the outside in by bridging the gap between authentic writing and writing assessment Through these two strands readers learn how assessment systems can be restructured to become better aligned with contemporary understandings of writing and with best practices in teaching With examples of assessments from elementary school through college chapters include guidance on designing assessments to address multiple kinds of writing integrate reading with writing and incorporate digital technology and multimodality Emphasizing the central role that teachers play in systemic reform the authors offer sample assessments developed with intensive teacher involvement that support learning and provide information for the evaluation of programs and schools This book is an essential resource for graduate students instructors scholars and policymakers in writing assessment composition and English education Assessing Second Language Writing in Academic Contexts Liz Hamp-Lyons, 1991 This is the first volume to focus on the assessment of second language writing The collection as a whole provides coverage of all issues in second language writing assessment starting from the context in which and for which assessment must occur moving through the aspects of decision making and design in a writing assessment program and then considering how the need to evaluate any program on assessment can be carried out After a discussion of issues of public reporting an area which will receive increasing attention in the next few years the volume closes with a discussion of what new issues and answers the future may bring The book reflects the current belief in direct writing assessment in second language writing assessment While it is often expected that those working with ESL students will focus on language error throughout the book themes of needs attitudes ideas and content dominate For second language writers the use of written language to learn to create knowledge and to share ideas and beliefs are vitally important Additionally issues of cross cultural academic literacy practical information on criteria and scoring models for use with ESL writers and research on the efficacy and effects of various assessment models are provided The book blends theory and practice in a way which offers all those who are concerned with the writing skills of nonnative users of English an invaluable resource

Invention in Rhetoric and Composition Janice M. Lauer, 2004 Invention in Rhetoric and Composition examines issues that have surrounded historical and contemporary theories and pedagogies of rhetorical invention citing a wide array of positions on these issues in both primary rhetorical texts and secondary interpretations It presents theoretical disagreements over the nature purpose and epistemology of invention and pedagogical debates over such issues as the relative importance of art talent imitation and practice in teaching discourse After a discussion of treatments of invention from the Sophists to the nineteenth century Invention in Rhetoric and Composition introduces a range of early twentieth century multidisciplinary theories and calls for invention s awakening in the field of English studies It then showcases inventional theories and pedagogies that have emerged in the field of Rhetoric and Composition over the last four decades including the ensuing research critiques and implementations of this inventional work As a reference guide the text offers a glossary of terms an annotated bibliography of selected texts and an extensive bibliography Janice M Lauer is Professor of English Emerita at Purdue University where she was the Reece McGee Distinguished Professor of English In 1998 she received the College Composition and Communication Conference s Exemplar Award Her publications include Four Worlds of Writing Inquiry and Action in Context Composition Research Empirical Designs and New Perspectives on Rhetorical Invention as well as essays on rhetorical invention disciplinarity writing as inquiry composition pedagogy historical rhetoric and empirical research

The Best of the Independent Rhetoric and Composition Journals 2011 Steve Parks, Brenda Glascott, 2013-03-06 The Best of the Independent Rhetoric and Composition Journals 2011 represents the result of a nationwide conversation beginning with journal editors but expanding to teachers scholars and workers across the discipline of Rhetoric and Composition to select essays that showcase the innovative and transformative work now being published in the field s independent journals

Longman Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric, 1984-1985 Erika Lindemann, 1987 Effective Learning and Teaching of Writing Gert Rijlaarsdam, Huub Bergh, Michel Couzijn, 2004-09-20 Effective Learning and Teaching of Writing is a handbook on research on the effective teaching and learning of writing It is a reference for researchers and educators in the domain of written composition in education Effective Learning and Teaching of Writing covers all age ranges and school settings and it deals with various aspects of writing and text types Research methodology varies from experimental studies to reflective classroom practitioners research This new volume in the series Studies in Writing brings together researchers from all kinds of disciplines involved in writing research and countries in their endeavour to improve the teaching of written composition It is the result of co operation of researchers all over the world and shows that in spite of the differences in educational regions over the world research in writing shares similar problems and tries to find answers and generate new questions The body of knowledge in this volume will inspire researchers and teachers to improve research and practice
