Monstrous Fantasies Leila K. Norako,2024-08-15 Monstrous Fantasies asks why medieval romances reimagining the crusades ending in a Christian victory circulated in England with such abundance after the 1291 Muslim reconquest of Acre the last of the Latin crusader states in the Holy Land and what these texts reveal about the cultural anxieties of late medieval England Leila K Norako highlights the impact that the Ottoman victory and subsequent massacre of Christian prisoners at the battle of Nicopolis in 1396 had on intensifying the popularity of what she calls recovery romance These two episodes inspired a sense of urgency over the fate of the Holy Land and of Latin Christendom itself resulting in the proliferation of romances in which crusading English kings like Richard I and anachronistic legends like King Arthur not only reconquered Jerusalem but committed genocidal violence against the Muslims These romances which as Norako argues also influenced Geoffrey Chaucer s Canterbury Tales conjure fantasies of an ascendant global Christendom by rehearsing acts of conquest and cultural annihilation that were impossible to realize in the late Middle Ages Emphasizing the tension in these texts between nostalgia and anticipation that fuels their narrative momentum Monstrous Fantasies also explores how the cultural desires for European and Christian hegemony that recovery romances versified were revived in the wake of the so called wars on terror in the twenty first century in such films as Kingdom of Heaven and American Sniper

The New American War Film Robert Burgoyne,2023-10-10 A look at how post 9 11 cinema captures the new face of war in the twenty first century While the war film has carved out a prominent space within the history of cinema the twenty first century has seen a significant shift in the characteristics that define it Serving as a roadmap to the genre s contemporary modes of expression The New American War Film explores how in the wake of 9 11 both the nature of military conflict and the symbolic frameworks that surround it have been dramatically reshaped Featuring in depth analyses of contemporary films like The Hurt Locker Zero Dark Thirty Eye in the Sky American Sniper and others The New American War Film details the genre s turn away from previously foundational themes of heroic sacrifice and national glory instead emphasizing the procedural violence of advanced military technologies and the haptic damage inflicted on individual bodies Unfolding amid an atmosphere of profound anxiety and disillusionment the new American war film demonstrates a breakdown of the prevailing cultural narratives that had come to characterize conflict in the previous century With each chapter highlighting a different facet of war s cinematic representation The New American War Film charts society s shifting attitudes toward violent conflict and what is broadly considered to be its acceptable repercussions Drawing attention to changes in gender dynamics and the focus on war s lasting psychological effects within these recent films Robert Burgoyne analyzes how cinema both reflects and reveals the makeup of the national imaginary
