Publishing a division of ABDO Clint Eastwood's Cinema of Trauma Charles R. Hamilton, Allen H. Redmon, 2017-10-13 Throughout his directorial career Clint Eastwood s movies have presented sympathetic narratives of characters enduring personal trauma as they turn to violence to survive calamity or sustain social order a choice that leaves them marginalized rather than redeemed In this collection of new essays contributors examine his films from The Outlaw Josey Wales to Sully as studies on PTSD that expose the social conditions that tolerate or trigger traumatization and in his more recent work imagine a way through individual and collective trauma

Returning Soldiers and PTSD Barbara Krasner, 2017-07-15 One of the most painful and tragic legacies of the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan has been the trauma suffered by those who served and the far reaching consequences and after effects of their scarring combat experiences This very important volume looks at the issue of returning soldiers PTSD from multiple angles examining skyrocketing suicide rates the debates surrounding the quality and accessibility of health care the nature of and stigmas associated with a PTSD diagnosis the responsibility that government and society have to care for returning soldiers how welcoming protective and supportive the environment is to which soldiers return and the steep cost of war to the individual families and society at large

Through the Crosshairs Roger Stahl, 2018-06-21 Now that it has become so commonplace we rarely blink an eye at camera footage framed by the crosshairs of a sniper s gun or from the perspective of a descending smart bomb But how did this weaponized gaze become the norm for depicting war and how has it influenced public perceptions Through the Crosshairs traces the genealogy of this weapon s eye view across a wide range of genres including news reports military public relations images action movies video games and social media posts As he tracks how gun camera footage has spilled from the battlefield onto the screens of everyday civilian life Roger Stahl exposes how this raw video is carefully curated and edited to promote identification with military weaponry rather than with the targeted victims He reveals how the weaponized gaze is not only a powerful propagandistic frame but also a prime site of struggle over the representation of state violence

Parameters, 2017 Languages of Trauma Peter Leese, Julia Barbara Köhne, Jason Crouthamel, 2021-03-24 Languages of Trauma explores how and for what purposes trauma is expressed in historical sources and visual media Disability and the Posthuman Stuart Fletcher Murray, 2020-05-08 Disability and the Posthuman is the first study to analyse cultural representations and deployments of disability as they interact with posthumanist theories of technology and embodiment Working across a wide range of texts many new to critical enquiry in contemporary writing film and cultural practice from North America Europe the Middle East and Japan it covers a diverse range of topics including contemporary cultural theory and aesthetics design engineering and gender the visualisation of prosthetic technologies in the representation of war and conflict and depictions of work time and sleep While noting the potential limitations of posthumanist assessments of the technologized body the study argues that there are exciting productive possibilities and subversive potentials in the dialogue between disability and posthumanism as they generate dissident crossings of cultural spaces Such intersections cover both fictional imagined and material grounded examples of disability and look to a future in which the development of technology and complex embodiment of disability presence align to produce sustainable yet radical creative and critical voices Focus On: 100 Most Popular Drama Films Based on Actual Events Wikipedia contributors, Combat Trauma Nadia Abu El Haj, 2022-09-27 Americans have long been asked to support the troops and care for veterans psychological wounds Who though does this injunction serve As acclaimed scholar Nadia Abu El Haj argues here in the American public s imagination the traumatized soldier stands in for destructive wars abroad with decisive ramifications in the post 9 11 era Across the political spectrum the language of soldier trauma is used to discuss American warfare producing a narrative in which traumatized soldiers are the only acknowledged casualties of war while those killed by American firepower are largely sidelined and forgotten In this wide ranging and fascinating study of the meshing of medicine science and politics Abu El Haj explores the concept of post traumatic stress disorder and the history of its medical diagnosis While antiwar Vietnam War veterans sought to address their psychological pain even as they maintained full awareness of their guilt and responsibility for perpetrating atrocities on the killing fields of Vietnam by the 1980s a peculiar convergence of feminist activism against sexual violence and Reagan s right wing war on crime transformed the idea of PTSD into a condition of victimhood In so doing the meaning of Vietnam veterans trauma would also shift moving away from a political space of reckoning with guilt and complicity to one that cast them as blameless victims of a hostile public upon their return home This is how in the post 9 11 era of the Wars on Terror the injunction to support our troops came to both sustain US militarism and also shields American civilians from the reality of wars fought ostensibly in their name In this compelling and crucial account Nadia Abu El Haj challenges us to think anew about the devastations of the post 9 11 era Sleep and Combat-Related Post Traumatic Stress Disorder Eric Vermetten, Anne Germain, Thomas C. Neylan, 2017-11-29 There are few clinical problems in the sleep medicine field that are more challenging than the sleep difficulties experienced by individuals suffering from post traumatic stress disorder PTSD This book offers a unique complete resource addressing all the basic concepts and clinical applications in sleep medicine in settings where combat related PTSD is commonplace Authored by leading international experts in the field of sleep military medicine Sleep and Combat Related Post Traumatic Stress Disorder is organized in six sections and provides a broad perspective of the field from the established theories to the most recent developments in research including the latest neuroscientific perspectives surrounding sleep and PTSD The result is a full assessment of sleep in relation to combat related PTSD and a gold standard volume that is the first of its kind This comprehensive title will be of great interest to a wide range of clinicians from academics and clinicians working within or in partnership with the military health care system to veteran hospital physicians and all health personnel who work with war veterans
