American Women Photographers

Martha Kreisel, 1999-02-28 American women have made significant contributions to the field of photography for well over a century. This bibliography compiles more than 1 070 sources for over 600 photographers from the 1880s to the present. As women's role in society changed, so did their role as photographers. In the early years, women often served as photographic assistants in their husbands' studios. The photography equipment, initially heavy and difficult to transport, was improved in the 1880s by George Eastman's innovations. With the lighter camera equipment, photography became accessible to everyone. Women photographers became journalists and portraitists who documented vanishing cultures and ways of life. Many of these important female photographers recorded life in the growing Northwest, and the streets of New York City became pioneers of historic photography as they captured the plight of Americans fleeing the Dust Bowl and the horrors of the concentration camps, and were members of the Photo Secessionist Movement to promote photography as a true art form. This source serves as a checklist for not only the famous but also the less familiar women photographers who deserve attention.

A Female Focus Margot F. Horwitz, 1996 Surveys the work of American women photographers over the past 150 years, examining what they photographed and why, as well as how they worked.

Viewfinders Jeanne Moutoussamy-Ashe, 1993 Although photography is well along in its second century, until now virtually nothing has been written about the work of black women photographers. In this historical survey, Jeanne Moutoussamy-Ashe presents an impressive selection of photographs, commenting on the careers of the professional and fine arts photographers from the pioneers to the women of today. The book is divided into six parts, each Overview describing the triumphs and struggles of various photographers of different eras. The careful attention to detail is illustrated in the photographs of early twentieth-century photographer Elnora Teal and in the work of Eslanda Mrs. Paul Robeson from her travels throughout the world. It also offers glimpses of black Hollywood in the 1940s and 1950s and of New York's Harlem during the same period. The photographs of contemporary photographers, among them Coreen Simpson with her flamboyant style and Fern Logan with her strong eye, demonstrate the talent and style black women continue to show in the field of photography. This collection of photographs, meaningful, striking, handsome, will give pleasure to photo buffs, historians, and to anyone fascinated by this neglected but vital part of history.

Seeing America

Melissa A. McEuen, Seeing America explores the camera work of five women who directed their visions toward influencing social policy and cultural theory Taken together they visually articulated the essential ideas occupying the American consciousness in the years between the world wars Melissa McEuen examines the work of Doris Ulmann who made portraits of celebrated artists in urban areas and lesser known craftspeople in rural places Dorothea Lange who magnified human dignity in the midst of poverty and unemployment Marion Post Wolcott a steadfast believer in collective strength as the antidote to social ills and the best defense against future challenges Margaret Bourke White who applied avant garde advertising techniques in her exploration of the human condition and Berenice Abbott a devoted observer of the continuous motion and chaotic energy that characterized the modern cityscape Combining feminist biography with analysis of visual texts McEuen considers the various prisms through which each woman saw and revealed America Their documentary photographs were the result of personal visions that had been formed by experiences and emotions as well as by careful calculations and technological processes These photographers captured the astounding variety of occupations values and leisure activities that shaped the nation and their photographs illuminate the intricate workings of American culture in the 1920s and 1930s

Ambassadors of Progress Verna Posever Curtis,2002 Women Photographers and Feminist Aesthetics Claire Raymond,2017-04-21 Women Photographers and Feminist Aesthetics makes the case for a feminist aesthetics in photography by analysing key works of twenty two women photographers including cis and trans woman photographers Claire Raymond provides close readings of key photographs spanning the history of photography from nineteenth century Europe to twenty first century Africa and Asia She offers original interpretations of well known photographers such as Diane Arbus Sally Mann and Carrie Mae Weems analysing their work in relation to gender class and race The book also pays close attention to the way in which indigenous North Americans have been represented through photography and the ways in which contemporary Native American women photographers respond to this history Developing the argument that through aesthetic force emerges the truly political the book moves beyond polarization of the aesthetic and the cultural Instead photographic works are read for their subversive political and cultural force as it emerges through the aesthetics of the image This book is ideal for students of Photography Art History Art and Visual Culture and Gender
