Ammaia II Excavation Contexts 1994 2011:

The Archaeology of Roman Portugal in its Western Mediterranean Context Tesse D. Stek, André

Carneiro, 2022-06-20 The Archaeology of Roman Portugal aims to contribute to the wider debate on Roman imperialism and expansionism by bringing to the fore a much underrepresented area of the Roman empire at least in English language scholarship its westernmost edge in modern day Portugal Highlighting the perspective from Roman Portugal will contribute to our understanding of the Roman empire because it presents both an extraordinary landscape in the sense of economic opportunities ocean resources marble and metal mining and settlement history The volume aims to present new data and insights from both archaeology and ancient history and to discuss their significance for our understanding of Roman expansion and imperialism A key goal of the volume is to discuss how the Portuguese panorama compares to other areas of the Iberian peninsula An explicit goal of the volume is to better integrate Portuguese scholarship in the academic debate on the Mediterranean Roman world and to contextualize it firmly in the wider Iberian and Western Mediterranean context Therefore chapters are produced by internationally diverse scholars in archaeology and ancient history from Portugal Spain Germany the UK the US the Netherlands Belgium and Italy With a view to assess the potential of integrating best practices in archaeological approaches and methodology different national and disciplinary research traditions and historical frameworks will be explicitly discussed Aristocrats and Statehood in Western Iberia, 300-600 C.E. Damián Fernández, 2017-11-06

Aristocrats and Statehood in Western Iberia 300 600 C E combines archaeological and literary sources to reconstruct the history of late antique Iberian aristocracies facilitating the study of a social class that has proved elusive when approached through the lens of a single type of evidence The Archaeology of Roman Surveillance in the Central Alentejo, Portugal Joey Williams, 2017 During the first century B C E a complex system of surveillance towers was established during Rome's colonization of the central Alentejo region of Portugal These towers provided visual control over the landscape routes through it and hidden or isolated places as part of the Roman colonization of the region As part of an archaeological analysis of the changing landscape of Alentejo Joey Williams offers here a theory of surveillance in Roman colonial encounters drawn from a catalog of watchtowers in the Alentejo the artifacts and architecture from the tower known as Caladinho and the geographic information systems analysis of each tower's vision Through the consideration of these and other pieces of evidence Williams places surveillance at the center of the colonial negotiation over territory resources and power in the westernmost province of the Roman Empire Local Societies and Peasantry Agencies in Medieval Iberia Juan

Antonio Quirós Castillo, 2025-01-26 Despite the significant attention medieval scholarship has devoted to the study of peasant societies these groups have traditionally been depicted as passive and homogeneous merely able of resisting pressures from the state or powerful individuals However in recent years the availability of new records the widespread adoption of microhistorical analyses and the renewal of conceptual frameworks have enabled scholars to undertake more detailed and nuanced investigations This collective volume aims to explore the political economic and social practices of Iberian medieval peasant societies A key finding of this multivocal analysis is the revelation of the relative subalternity of medieval ruling groups and the constraints on peasant actions across various geographical and chronological contexts Ammaia II Cristina Corsi,2014 After Ammaia I this is the second volume devoted to the results of a European funded archaeological project in Portugal Lusitanian Amphorae: Production and Distribution Inês Vaz Pinto,Rui Roberto de Almeida,Archer Martin,2016-10-24 More than a century of archaeological investigation in Portugal has helped to discover excavate and study many Lusitanian amphorae kiln sites with their amphorae being widely distributed in Lusitania Le commerce de céramiques fines à ammaia, une ville du sud de la Lusitanie (50 - 550 apr. J.-c.) José Carlos Quaresma,2021-05-13 This volume presents the entire assemblage of fine wares terra sigillata lamps and thin walled wares from Ammaia a Roman and Late Antique town located in the hinterland of southern Lusitania presently in Portuguese territory Archeologia Medievale, XLVII, 2020 ,2020-12-27 Il volume XLVII 2020 suddiviso come di consueto in tre sezioni più quella di recensioni segnalazioni La sezione saggi contiene una serie di contributi che vanno da una riflessione sul ruolo dell'archeologia medievale nelle riviste di divulgazione scientifica alla ricostruzione di un importante contesto funerario della prima età carolingia da una valutazione critica della presenza delle monete nei depositi archeologici all'interno di chiese alla ricostruzione dell'attività tessile della Roma medievale o all'uso dell'archeobotanica per ricostruire la biografia di specie vegetali domestiche Completano il volume la serie degli articoli nella sezione Notizie scavi e lavori sul campo che illustrano attività di ricerca in Italia Emilia Romagna Sardegna e Sicilia e all'estero Spagna e Portogallo e la sezione Note e discussioni con contributi che spaziano dall'archeologia pubblica e dalla bioarcheologia all'analisi di specifiche categorie di prodotti le ceramiche invetriate in monocottura o l'invetriata islamica in Sicilia le fibbie da cintura altomedievali dallo studio archeologico di singoli contesti chiese palazzi fino all'archeologia alpina Conclude il volume la sezione Recensioni e segnalazioni Estudios para la configuración de las facies cerámicas altoimperiales en el Sur de la Península Ibérica P. Ruiz Montes, Ma. V. Peinado Espinosa, Ma. I. Fernández García,2018-05-31 An exploration of the economy and trade in the South of the Iberian Peninsula during the High Roman Empire focussing on the study of ceramic contexts in several market places and consumption centres located in the region Paisajes, espacios y materialidades: Arqueología rural altomedieval en la península ibérica Sara Prata,Fabián Cuesta-Gómez,Catarina Tente,2022-03-10 Rural landscapes are increasingly important when analysing the processes of change following the collapse of the Roman imperial structure This volume presents contributions from key researchers in early medieval peasant archaeology in the north western quadrant of the Peninsula offering a multi scale image of the main lines of ongoing research Urbanisation in Roman Spain and Portugal Pieter Houten,2021-03-03 The principal aims of Urbanisation in Roman Spain and Portugal Civitates Hispaniae in the Early Empire are to provide a comprehensive reconstruction of the urban systems of the Iberian Peninsula during the Early Empire and to explain why these systems looked the way they did While some chapters focus on settlements that were cities or towns from a juridical point of view the implications of using a purely functional definition of towns are also explored Key themes include continuities and discontinuities between pre Roman and Roman settlement patterns the geographical distribution of cities belonging to various size brackets economic relationships between self governing cities and their territories and the role of cities as nodes in road systems and maritime networks In addition it is argued that a considerable number of self governing communities in Roman Spain and Portugal were poly centric rather than based on a single urban centre The volume will be of interest to anyone working on Roman urbanism as well as those interested in the Iberian Peninsula in the Roman period
