

A Litany In Time Of Plague

Adieu, farewell, earth's bliss;
This world uncertain is;
Fond are life's lustful joys;
Death proves them all but toys;
None from his darts can fly;
I am sick, I must die.
Lord, have mercy on us!

Rich men, trust not in wealth,
Gold cannot buy you health;
Physic himself must fade.
All things to end are made,
The plague full swift goes by;
I am sick, I must die.
Lord, have mercy on us!

Beauty is but a flower
Which wrinkles will devour;
Brightness falls from the air;
Queens have died young and fair;
Dust hath closed Helen's eye.
I am sick, I must die.
Lord, have mercy on us!

Strength stoops unto the grave,
Worms feed on Hector brave;
Swords may not fight with fate,
Earth still holds open her gate.
"Come, come!" the bells do cry.
I am sick, I must die.
Lord, have mercy on us!

Wit with his wantonness
Tasteth death's bitterness;
Hell's executioner
Hath no ears for to hear
What vain art can reply.
I am sick, I must die.
Lord, have mercy on us!

Haste, therefore, each degree,
To welcome destiny;
Heaven is our heritage,
Earth but a player's stage;
Mount we unto the sky.
I am sick, I must die.

A Litany In Time Of Plague:

The Realms of Apollo Raymond A. Anselment, 1995-07 In The Realms of Apollo literary scholar Raymond A Anselment examines how seventeenth century English authors confronted the physical and psychological realities of death Focusing on the dangers of childbirth and the terrors of bubonic plague venereal disease and smallpox the book reveals in the discourse of literary and medical texts the meanings of sickness and death in both the daily life and culture of seventeenth century England These perspectives show each realm anew as the domain of Apollo the deity widely celebrated in myth as the god of poetry and the god of medicine Authors of both formal elegies and simple broadsides saw themselves as healers who tried to find in language the solace physicians could not find in medicine Within the context of the suffering so unmistakable in the medical treatises and in the personal diaries memoirs and letters the poets struggles illuminate a new cultural consciousness of sickness and death BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved A Litany in Time of Plague Kathleen Daisy Miller, 1994 A Community of Writers Robert Dana, 1999-04 We do not pretend to have produced the writers included in this book Their talent was inevitably shaped by the genes rattling in ancestral closets We did give them a community in which to try out the quality of their gift In Whatever Houses We May Visit: An Anthology of Poems That Have Inspired Physicians , Writers Talking John Metcalf, Claire Wilkshire, 2003 Eight interviews eight stories eight commentaries Eight of Canada's finest writers Writers Talking gives readers a chance to listen in Terry Griggs on where stories come from Michael Winter on writing Newfoundland K D Miller on being an actor who writes The volume also features stories by and conversations with Mary Borsky Steven Heighon Elise Levine Annabel Lyon and Lisa Moore The Archetypal Imagination James Hollis, 2002-11-25 Also available in an open access full text edition at <http://oaktrust.library.tamu.edu/handle/1969/1/85764> What we wish to know and most desire remains unknowable and lies beyond our grasp With these words James Hollis leads readers to consider the nature of our human need for meaning in life and for connection to a world less limiting than our own In The Archetypal Imagination Hollis offers a lyrical Jungian appreciation of the archetypal imagination He argues that without the human mind's ability to form energy filled images that link us to worlds beyond our rational and emotional capacities we would have neither culture nor spirituality Drawing upon the work of poets and philosophers Hollis shows the importance of depth experience meaning and connection to an other world Just as humans have instincts for biological survival and social interaction we have instincts for spiritual connection as well Just as our physical and social needs seek satisfaction so the spiritual instincts of the human animal are expressed in images we form to evoke an emotional or spiritual response as in our dreams myths and religious traditions The author draws upon the work of the poet Rainer Maria Rilke's Duino Elegies to elucidate the archetypal imagination in literary forms To underscore the importance of incarnating depth experience he also examines a series of paintings by Nancy Witt With the power of the archetypal imagination available to all of us we are invited to summon courage to take on the world anew to relinquish outmoded identities and defenses and to risk a radical re imagining of the larger possibilities of the world and of the self

Globe opened once more upon the Bankside to great acclaim rising like a phoenix from the flames Arnold creates a vivid portrait of Shakespeare and his London from the bard's own plays and contemporary sources combining a novelist's eye for detail with a historian's grasp of his unique contribution to the development of the English theatre This is a portrait of Shakespeare London the man and the myth
