Marcus R. P. Dorman, 2024-04 A Journal of a Tour in the Congo Free State Dorman Marcus Roberts Phipps, 2016-06-23 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to British Humanitarianism and the Congo Reform Movement, 1896-1913 Dean Pavlakis, 2016-03-09 The Congo Free State was under the personal rule of King Leopold II of the Belgians from 1885 to 1908 The accolades that attended its founding were soon contested by accusations of brutality oppression and murderous misrule but the controversy by itself proved insufficient to prompt changes Starting in 1896 concerned men and women used public opinion to influence government policy in Britain and the United States to create space for reforming forces in Belgium itself to pry the Congo from Leopold's grasp and implement reforms Examining key factors in the successes and failures of a pivotal movement that aided the colonized people of the Congo and broadened the idea of human rights British Humanitarianism and the Congo Reform Movement provides a valuable update to scholarship on the history of humanitarianism in Africa The Congo Reform movement built on the institutional experience of overseas humanitarianism the energy of evangelical political involvement and innovations in racial imperial and nationalist discourse to create political energy Often portrayed as the efforts of a few key people especially E D Morel this book demonstrates that the movement increasingly manifested itself as an institutionalized and transnational campaign with support from key government officials that ultimately made a material difference to the lives of the people of the Congo A Journal of a Tour in the Congo Free State Marcus Roberts Phipps Dorman, 2009-03-03 Travel Writing in the Nineteenth Century Tim Youngs, 2006-09-01 Long popular with a general readership travel writing has in the past three decades or so become firmly established as an object of serious and multi disciplinary academic inquiry Few of the scholarly and popular publications that have focused on the nineteenth century have regarded the century as a whole This broad volume examines the cultural and social aspects of travel writing on Africa Asia America the Balkans and Australasia African Camp Fires Stewart Edward White, 2019-11-26 In African Camp Fires Stewart Edward White offers a captivating narrative that intricately weaves personal experiences with vivid observations of the African landscape and its wildlife Written in a lyrical descriptive style the book serves as both a travelogue and a collection of adventures that illuminate the majesty and mystery of the African wilderness White meticulously captures the essence of life in the bush delineating the complexities of the natural world indigenous cultures and the profound connection between humans and the environment This rich tapestry of storytelling reflects early 20th century memoir traditions while paving the way for future nature writing and adventure literature Stewart Edward White was an American author and a prominent figure in early environmental literature His extensive travels and fascination with Africa's diverse ecosystems

Catastrophe and Creation K. Elkholm Friedmann, 2014-03-18 First Published in 1992 This is a study of what happened to Kongo society and culture at the turn of the 20th century when the area was penetrated brutally violated and colonized by Europeans This book is the outcome of a project called Society and Culture in Crisis whereby the author found that evolution was a continuous more or less unbroken process only at the global system level whereas repeated rises and falls took place at the local level This study closely looks at the declining development process in the Lower Congo and calls to the effects of colonization on society and culture The Statesman's Year-book Frederick Martin, Sir John Scott Keltie, Isaac Parker Anderson Renwick, Mortimer Epstein, Sigfrid Henry Steinberg, John Paxton, Brian Hunter (Librarian), 1891 Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1903 Frederick Starr Donald McVicker, 2012-11-10 This definitive detail packed biography is the first of Frederick Starr 1856 1933 a founding father of American anthropology at the University of Chicago It presents a major reevaluation of Starr's place as the missionizer of anthropology illuminates the consequences of the professionalization of anthropology and yields a greater understanding of the United States as it moved into a position of global power Donald McVicker considers Frederick Starr's colorful life in the context of the times In many respects Starr's early career paralleled that of Franz Boas the architect of American anthropology Nonetheless as Boas led professional anthropology into the twentieth century in the United States Starr the popularizer increasingly fell behind Today if Starr is remembered at all he is usually described in terms of his intellectual professional and ethical failings Yet his collections publications and photographic and paper archives provide a rich set of resources for archaeologists ethnologists folklorists and historians McVicker argues that Starr's mission to bring anthropology to the public and enlighten them was as valid a goal during his career as was Boas s goal to professionalize the field
