Introduction (5 minutes)

- Review short vowel sounds by watching the "Short Vowels" music video (see link in Related books and/or media section).
- Write each vowel on the whiteboard or chart paper and go over each sound individually. Remind students that vowels each make two sounds and tell them that today you will be focusing on the short vowel sounds.

EL

Beginning

- Watch additional short clips about short and long vowel sounds to further familiarize students with the class focus.

Intermediate

- Provide students with individual alphabet charts to follow along as you review long and short vowel sounds.

Explicit Instruction/Teacher modeling (5 minutes)

- Display a picture of something that starts with the short a sound (such as an apple) and ask students to say the sound the a makes.
- Write the word "and" on the board and sound the word out with your students (or review it if it is a known sight word).
- Explain that when you add a letter to the beginning of "and" you can make new words. Each of the new words will end with the same sound (and) but will all start with a new sound. Tell the class that all of the new words are part of the -and family.
