give this volume the authority it requires to be a relevant text for many Andragogical and Pedagogical Methods for Curriculum and Program Development Wang, Viktor, Bryan, Valerie C., 2014-03-31 Today's ever changing learning environment is characterized by the fast pace of technology that drives our society to move forward and causes our knowledge to increase at an exponential rate. The need for in depth research that is bound to generate new knowledge about curriculum and program development is becoming ever more relevant. Andragogical and Pedagogical Methods for Curriculum and Program Development offers an in depth description of key terms and concepts related to curriculum and program development for both faculty and students as well as program designers, instructional program developers, trainers, and librarians. Guideposts to Self-directed Learning Gary J. Confessore, Sharon J. Confessore, 1992. Published by Organization Design and Development Inc. 2002 Renaissance Blvd Suite 100 King of Prussia PA 19406. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc. Portland OR. Development of Professional Expertise K. Anders Ericsson, 2009-06-22. Professionals such as medical doctors, airplane pilots, lawyers, and technical specialists find that some of their peers have reached high levels of achievement that are difficult to measure objectively. In order to understand to what extent it is possible to learn from these expert performers for the purpose of helping others improve their performance, we first need to reproduce and measure this performance. This book is designed to provide the first comprehensive overview of research on the acquisition and training of professional performance as measured by objective methods rather than by subjective ratings by supervisors. In this collection of articles, the world's foremost experts discuss methods for assessing the experts' knowledge and review our knowledge on how we can measure professional performance and design training environments that permit beginning and experienced professionals to develop and maintain their high levels of performance using examples from a wide range of professional domains. Research on Teaching Strategies and Skills in Different Educational Stages Pedro Gil-Madrona, Linda Saraiva, Luisa Losada-Puente, 2025-03-19. The teaching practice becomes a reciprocal activity in the classroom when teachers apply their creativity and their knowledge resulting from research and scientific evidence in the didactic teaching process with the purpose of strengthening in the students the key competencies of their training, turning students at the core of the didactic process. Teaching strategies must be articulated from previous research and planning and designed sequentially to promote real and interesting learning scenarios and thereby achieve significant learning. From this perspective of teaching learning strategies, the reciprocal interaction between the student and the teacher becomes the focus of attention with a playful, motivating, interesting, and rewarding approach for the learner. The role of the teacher is conceived as fundamental in the teaching process to achieve the link between teaching learning and evaluation strategies. For this reason, multidisciplinary studies are welcome from all stages of the educational system with quantitative, qualitative, and mixed approaches and reviews promoting good teaching practices of reflection and innovation from these studies.

Annals ,2002 Advances in Medical Education A.J.J.A. Scherpbier,Cees P.M. van der Vleuten,J.J. Rethans,A.F.W. van der Steeg,2012-12-06 About 550 registrants from 51 different countries attended the Seventh Ottawa Conference on Medical Education and Assessment in Maastricht We received 525 abstracts for the conference divided in thematic poster sessions and platform presentations Organising the conference was an honour and we tried to meet the high standards of a friendly and relaxed atmosphere which has characterized previous Ottawa conferences. During and after the conference about 250 papers were submitted for publication in the conference proceedings leaving us little time for a post conference depression. Despite the large number of papers the editors have attempted to review and edit the papers as care fully as possible. Occasionally however correspondence exceeded reasonable deadlines preventing careful editing of a small number of the papers. Although we felt that our editorial task was not quite finished we nevertheless decided to include these papers. We thank the many authors for their enthusiastic and prompt response to occasionally tedious editorial suggestions and requests. We are sure that this collective effort has resulted in a book that will make an important contribution to the field of medical education. The editors want to thank Jocelyn Flipppo Berger whose expertise with desk top publishing and perseverance was a great help.

Innovative Teaching Strategies in Nursing and Related Health Professions Debra Hagler, Beth L Hultquist, Martha J Bradshaw, 2024-10. The recent pandemic has driven rapid change in educational technology use while the post pandemic phase has driven a desire for intentional social learning and interaction. Revisions will reframe teaching strategies and introduce additional methods to support these developments. Key Revision Changes: Major changes include emphasis and new content on diversity and inclusion, clinical judgment competency based education and virtual augmented reality. Authors are to provide a crosswalk of product s solution to the competencies and outcomes expected. The most pertinent competencies for users of this text are the NLN Core Competencies of Academic Nurse Educators 2005.

An Architectural Approach to Instructional Design Andrew S. Gibbons, 2013-10-30. Winner of the 2014 AECT Design Development Outstanding Book Award. An Architectural Approach to Instructional Design is organized around a groundbreaking new way of conceptualizing instructional design practice. Both practical and theoretically sound this approach is drawn from current international trends in architectural digital and industrial design and focuses on the structural and functional properties of the artifact being designed rather than the processes used to design it. Harmonious with existing systematic design models the architectural approach expands the scope of design discourse by introducing new depth into the conversation and merging current knowledge with proven systematic techniques. An architectural approach is the natural result of increasing technological complexity and escalating user expectations As the complexity of design problems increases specialties evolve their own design languages theories processes tools literature organizations and standards An Architectural Approach to Instructional Design describes the implications for theory and practice providing a powerful and commercially relevant introduction for all students of instructional design

Improving On-Task Behaviors in the Classrooms Dr. George N. Ohakamnu, 2015-05-30 The present day students regular and special education have some difficulties remaining on task in the classroom especially the students classified as the at risk learning disabled behavioral disordered etc Therefore it becomes imperative to design a proactive methodology or strategy that may create on task behavior while teaching and learning are taking place in the classroom Note that no one strategy is enough to contain behavior problem students hence the partner check self recording strategy was designed to induce on task behavior for a considerable amount of time among elementary school children
