

1996 APUSH Exam Key & Explanations

1. The Bill of Rights, which comprises the first ten amendments to the Constitution, was written primarily to protect the rights of individuals. James Madison drafted these amendments in response to Anti-Federalists' complaints made during the ratification process that individual liberties were not clearly protected in the Constitution. These amendments were concerned more with the individual's relationship with the federal government than with enhancing the powers of the state governments. The Ninth and Tenth Amendments did reserve to the people or the states those powers not specifically granted to the federal government, but Madison prevented more explicit limits on national power, including efforts to limit the power of the federal judiciary.

- The correct answer (B) was chosen by 93% of test takers.

2. Henry Clay was the best-known advocate of the "American System," which was designed to promote the economic welfare of the United States. It was introduced in the aftermath of the War of 1812 to lessen American dependence on Europe and to remedy economic problems that had been evident during the war. It included a protective tariff, a new bank of the United States, and federally financed internal improvements such as canals and roads. President James Madison, who as a congressman during the Washington administrations had opposed such measures, supported all of these measures except the federally financed internal improvements, for which he thought a constitutional amendment was necessary. Andrew Jackson was not a strong supporter of the American System, as evidenced by his veto of the Mayville Road bill. The 1823 Monroe Doctrine, not the American System, called for an end to the European presence in South America.

- The correct answer (D) was chosen by 70% of test takers.

3. President Abraham Lincoln's initial goal in the Civil War was the preservation of the Union. At the time the North went to war, there was no Southern invasion of the North contemplated, nor were there any political defeats and insults inflicted by the South that needed to be avenged. The Civil War, if anything, gave European powers an opportunity to meddle in American affairs. Only in September 1862, almost a year and a half after the start of the war, did Lincoln introduce the preliminary Emancipation Proclamation. This proclaimed that slaves in territory held by the Confederacy on January 1, 1863, would be free. The major European countries, France and England, were more sympathetic to the emancipation of the slaves than to Southern independence. Although the goals of war changed over time, the initial goal had been, as Lincoln said, the preservation of the Union.

- The correct answer (C) was chosen by 90% of test takers.

4. The clothing industry was transformed by the sewing machine. This machine allowed workers, many of them women, to mass-produce clothes in factories rather than having women in the home tediously sew the family apparel. This new clothing was inexpensive, and wardrobes now had more clothes than previously. In the late nineteenth century, the fabrics were wool or cotton, as nylon and polyesters would not be invented until the twentieth century. The United States did not begin importing large quantities of clothing until the second half of the twentieth century.

- The correct answer (E) was chosen by 82% of test takers.

5. For Woodrow Wilson, the most important part of the Treaty of Versailles was the provisions concerning the League of Nations. Even though many of Wilson's Fourteen Points, such as the reduction in tariff barriers and freedom of the seas, did not become part of the treaty, Wilson believed that the League would resolve many future conflicts and that United States membership was crucial to the operation of the League. Wilson refused to consider any amendments to the Versailles Treaty concerning United States membership in the League. The Senate, under the leadership of Henry Cabot Lodge and William Borah—the so-called "irreconcilables"—refused to consider the treaty without reservations on United States membership. On this issue Wilson refused to resolve his differences with the Republican-controlled Senate. There was no dispute between the Senate and Wilson over the border between Italy and Yugoslavia at this time, nor over limiting German reparations to the amount Germany could afford to pay. The Big Four determined the borders of Germany, and the former German colonies were acquired by Britain, France, and Japan.

- The correct answer (E) was chosen by 80% of test takers.

6. The Harlem Renaissance was a significant expression of African American cultural creativity that gained national visibility in the 1920's. The movement focused attention on the music, painting, and writing of African American
