

Applications of Area, Length and Distance

1. A sector of a circle is a region of the circle bounded by a central angle and the corresponding arc.

2. In proportional reasoning, we have seen that central angles bounding the sector and the complete circle, their corresponding circumferences, radii and their perimeters that would be similar provided that arc length is a linear function of given central angle values or distances of rotation. This function gives relationship for arc length of a circle of radius, r in given angles.

$$\text{Arc Length} = \frac{\theta}{360} (\text{circumference of rotation})$$

- Another way to find given length is to think about unit or, rather, radii lengths. As you collected that the given radius in this previous activity, you discovered that arc length is directly a function of that circle's circumference and can be expressed in terms of π . This relationship can be summarized proportionally as circle of any given radius, r , is similar.

$$\frac{\text{Arc Length}}{2\pi r} = \frac{\text{Degrees of Rotation}}{360}$$

- Similarly, you discovered a function that would be similar provided the arc length by a central angle in an angle of rotation of a circle of radius, r .

$$(\text{Arc Length for Length of Rotation}) = \frac{\theta}{360} (\text{circumference of rotation})$$

- As you collected that for given radius in this previous activity, you discovered that, the arc length, area of rotation per area swept is proportional to the circle's circumference and can be expressed in terms of π . This relationship is summarized proportionally for a circle of any given radius, r is similar.

$$\frac{\text{Arc Length}}{2\pi r} = \frac{\text{Degrees of Rotation}}{360}$$

- Example: (Based on previous activity and necessary.)

1. If the radius of a circle is 10 units and the angle is 60 degrees, find the arc length and area of that sector.
