Wahl, René Pelser, 2020-12-31 This edited volume reveals how the journey of transformation at the University of the Free State UFS became interwoven with student leadership development and global learning The UFS initiated two intersecting co curricular programmes namely the First Year Leadership for Change F1L4C programme in 2010 and the triennial Global Leadership Summit GLS in 2012 Although these programmes changed over time their core focus remained to be the development of transformational student leaders through the creation of global learning spaces From its inception in 2010 to the last GLS in 2018 the UFS global learning project involved 780 students and 259 staff members from 109 institutions across four continents The goal of this edited volume is to create a deeper understanding of how the UFS F1L4C and GLS programmes enhanced student leadership development through global learning especially in the context of higher education transformation Religious Freedom and Religious Pluralism in Africa Pieter Coertzen, M Christian

Green, Len Hansen, 2016-05-22 Africa continues to be a region with strong commitments to religious freedom and religious pluralism. These, however, are rarely mere facts on the ground; they are legal, political, social, and theological projects that require considerable effort to realise. This volume, compiling the proceedings of the third annual conference of the African Consortium for Law and Religion Studies, focuses on various issues which vastly effect the understanding of religious pluralism in Africa. These include, amongst others, religious freedom as a human right, the importance of managing religious pluralism, and the permissibility of religious practice and observance in South African public schools.

Changing the Perspectives of Noble Gas Reactivity Sudip Pan, Pratim Kumar Chattaraj, Gabriel Merino, 2021-05-28 Sustainable soil fertility practices for smallholder farmers Cosmas Parwada, Hupenyu Allan Mupambwa, Ronald Mandumbu, Arnold Mashingaidze, 2023-06-14 Perspectives in Financial Therapy Prince Sarpong, Liezel Alsemgeest, 2023-07-18

As we deepen our understanding of the interplay between money and psychology, financial therapy has emerged as a popular field of study. This book offers a diverse range of perspectives on the practice of financial therapy, exploring its benefits, challenges, and potential critiques. The book also provides practical guidance for financial therapists, as well as financial planning and mental health practitioners who incorporate financial therapy into their work. The book covers a wide range of topics, including the neurobiology of financial decision making, models in financial therapy, online financial therapy, generational differences in financial attitudes, incorporating financial therapy into divorce planning, and techniques for coping with the stresses associated with estate planning. The book addresses the need for culturally relevant assessments of financial therapy in African contexts and offers a critical appraisal of the field of financial therapy. By providing multiple perspectives and practical guidance, this book will be a valuable resource for students, scholars, and researchers in financial therapy, financial planning, and related fields, as well as the broader field of psychology.

Human Rights and Human Wrongs Colin Tatz, 2015-04-01 Racism crushes bodies and souls. In Human Rights and Human Wrongs, Colin Tatz, a world authority on racial conflict and abuse, a key figure in Aboriginal Studies in Australia, and an author of major works on genocide, Aboriginal youth suicide, and Aboriginal and Islander sporting achievements, tells his personal story. Born and educated in South Africa, Tatz worked to expose and oppose that nation's centuries-old apartheid regimes before leaving for what he thought would be a more enlightened nation, only to find in Australia striking parallels of that other, dismal universe. As a researcher, writer, and activist, he has dedicated his life to confronting what people do to other people on the basis of their race or ethnicity. Here, he also relates how alienation, his Jewishness, and an intriguing problem with food have been for him propelling forces. Tatz's story, ranging from Southern Africa to Australia, New Zealand, Canada, and Israel, is an important one for anyone genuinely interested in the struggle to achieve social justice for minorities and marginalised peoples.

African Philosophy and Environmental Conservation Jonathan Chimakonam, 2017-10-04 African Philosophy and Environmental Conservation is about the unconcern for and marginalisation of the environment in African philosophy The issue of the environment is still very much neglected by governments corporate bodies academics and specifically philosophers in the sub Saharan Africa The entrenched traditional world views which give a place of privilege to one thing over the other as for example men over women is the same attitude that privileges humans over the environment This culturally embedded orientation makes it difficult for stake holders in Africa to identify and confront the modern day challenges posed by the neglect of the environment In a continent where deep rooted cultural and religious practices as well as widespread ignorance determine human conduct towards the environment it becomes difficult to curtail much less overcome the threats to our environment It shows that to a large extent the African cultural privileging of men over women and of humans over the environment somewhat exacerbates and makes the environmental crisis on the continent intractable For example it raises the challenging puzzle as to why women in Africa are the ones to plant the trees and men are the ones to fell them Contributors address these salient issues from both theoretical and practical perspectives demonstrating what African philosophy could do to ameliorate the marginalisation which the theme of environment suffers on the continent Philosophy is supposed to teach us how to lead the good life in all its forms why is it failing in this duty in Africa specifically where the issue of environment is concerned This book which trail blazes the field of African Philosophy and Environmental Ethics will be of great interest to students and scholars of Philosophy African philosophy Environmental Ethics and Gender Studies

Universities, Employability and Human Development Melanie Walker, Samuel Fongwa, 2017-01-20 The book makes a significant contribution to critical higher education studies specifically to graduate employability research and to capabilities and education research The book moves beyond the simplistic conception of alleged gaps in graduate skills and mismatches between employers and universities and instead provides an innovative multi dimensional and intersectional human capabilities conceptualisation of graduate employability The book challenges an individualised notion of employability instead locating employability issues in social and economic conditions and argues that employability choices cannot be divorced from inequality Qualitative and quantitative data from multiple case study universities in South Africa are used to explore the perceptions and experiences of diverse students lecturers support officers and employers regarding what each university is doing or should be doing to enhance graduate economic opportunities and contribute to inclusive development The book will be highly relevant to students scholars and researchers in the fields of education and sociology particularly those with an interest in graduate employability

Dress in the Making of African Identity: A Social and Cultural History of the Yoruba People Bukola Adeyemi Oyeniyi, 2015-09-08 This is a book on the social and cultural history of Yoruba people a people in southwest Nigeria As the first to provide a comprehensive treatment of Yoruba dress in historical perspective this book is an important contribution to African history in general and the Yoruba cultural history in particular The book illuminates the impact of Christianity Islam and British colonialism on the construction of Yoruba identity and how dress was entangled in that construction It also provides insightful discussions of the transformations in dress culture since independence and demonstrates the importance of dress as a site for contesting and articulating postcolonial Yoruba identity and class structure within the Nigerian national space This book provides many insights into these issues and is thus an invaluable addition to Africana studies anthropology and history

Democratising Participatory Research Carmen Martinez-Vargas, 2022-01-20 In this book Carmen Martinez Vargas explores how academic participatory research and the way it is carried out can contribute to more or less social justice Adopting theoretical and empirical approaches and addressing multiple complex intersectional issues this book offers inspiration for scholars and practitioners to open up alternative pathways to social justice viewed through a Global South lens Martinez Vargas examines the colonial roots of research and emphasises the importance of problematising current practices and limitations in order to establish more just and democratic participatory research practices Although practitioners have been challenging the Western roots of research and participatory research for decades their goals can be compromised by pluralities and contradictions in the field This book aims not to replicate past participatory research approaches but to offer an innovative theoretical foundation the Capabilities Approach and an innovative participatory practice called Democratic Capabilities Research Democratising Participatory Research is not only timely and relevant in South Africa but also in the Global North owing to the current crisis of values jeopardising the peaceful existence of diverse societies The book gives essential recommendations for capabilities and human development scholars to reframe their perspectives and uses of the Capabilities Approach as well as for participatory practitioners to critically reflect on their practices and their often limited conceptualisation of participation

Leading for Change Jonathan Jansen, 2015-08-14 This book offers new theoretical ground for thinking about and transforming leadership and higher education worldwide Through an examination of the construct of intimacy and nearness including emotional spiritual psychic intellectual and physical closeness Jonathan Jansen demonstrates its power to influence positive leadership in young people He argues that sensory leadership which includes but extends beyond the power of touch represents a fresh and effective approach to progressive transformation of long divided institutions Considering richly textured narratives chapters explore complex intimacies among Black and White university students in South Africa post apartheid and in the aftermath of a major racial atrocity The stories reveal the students transformation in the process of leadership for change interweaving concepts of racism human relationships and intimacy and in turn expanding the knowledge base of social and institutional improvement This book explores how when different kinds of nearness come together in leadership change young people respond in ways that would not be possible through conventional instruments such as policy legislation and the appeal to moral sensibilities alone Leading for Change will be critical reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of education educational justice higher education educational leadership and change social and or racial justice This book will also be of interest to those working in the fields of anthropology social psychology and South African contemporary politics policy and institutional practices
