Archaeology of Knowledge Michel Foucault,2002 Foucault s classic methodological statement Michel Foucault Barry Smart,1994 Foucault Robert Nola,2014-03-05 Five eminent critics explore the validity of Foucault s ideas on such questions as the fit between power and knowledge and the tension between historicist and universalist claims The very possibility of a critical stance is a recurring theme in all of Foucault s works and the contributors vary in the ways that they relate to his key views on truth and reason in relation to power and government Encyclopedia of Contemporary

Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk,1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture The

The Interplay of Power, Knowledge and the Self - Subject and the Art of Telling the Truth in Michel Foucault Abhilash G Nath,2011-02-17 Essay from the year 2011 in the subject Philosophy Philosophy of the Present language English

abstract It is quite interesting to notice that as Foucault re imagined his entire intellectual endeavour he rightly elevated one aspect of his interest to the heart of the entire problematic whether it be his study of knowledge or power or even human behaviour and that is the problem of subject Though an idea of a passive subject is implicit in his early studies as they deal with the discursive formations and power it is only in Foucault's later writings that subject emerges as the major concern Subject here becomes central to one function that is the function of telling the truth especially in a historical formation in which truth is something that is granted and is produced in an environment of inter related discursive and non discursive systems

Pragmaticizing Understanding Michael Meeuwis, Jan-Ola Östman, 2012-05-01 The ideas that mark modern day pragmatics are old but did not start to get more systematically developed until the 1960s and 1970s Still the very recognition of pragmatics as a self standing academic discipline is a product of the 1980s not least made possible by the establishment of the International Pragmatics Association One scholar in particular has devoted his life both to IPrA and to the discipline This volume pays homage to Jef Verschueren on the occasion of his 60th birthday It celebrates him for his long standing dedication as Secretary General of IPrA and for his scholarly contributions to the field We owe to Jef Verschueren the insight that the processes through which language users do or do not achieve understanding among each other in communication can only be fully comprehended if approached from a pragmatic perspective i e if understanding is pragmaticized The chapters in this book are written by scholars who like Jef Verschueren have played a key role in the genesis and development of the field and who still actively contribute to its advancement today Each author looks back evaluates the present and takes on new challenges

Critical Essays on Michel Foucault Karlis Racevskis, 1999 Each volume in this series provides an introduction tracing the subject author's critical reputation trends in interpretation developments in textual and biographical scholarship and reprints of selected essays and reviews beginning with the author's contemporaries and continuing through to current scholarship Many volumes also feature new essays by leading scholars and critics specially commissioned for the series

Truth and Consequences Reed Way Dasenbrock,2001 Contemporary literary theory takes truth and meaning to be dependent on shared conventions in a community of discourse and views authors intentions as irrelevant to interpretation This view argues Reed Way Dasenbrock owes much to Anglo American analytic philosophy as developed in the 1950s and 1960s by such thinkers as Austin and Kuhn but it ignores more recent work by philosophers like Davidson and Putnam who have mounted a counterattack on this earlier conventionalism This book draws on current analytic philosophy to resuscitate the notion of objective truth and intentionalist models of meaning and interpretation thereby moving beyond the antifoundationalism of postmodern theory It addresses the work of Rorty and Fish as representative of literary conventionalism discusses the futility of Derrida s anti intentionalism and shows how poststructuralist thinkers like Althusser and Foucault have contributed to the new thematics of race class gender and sexual orientation that dominates literary theory today Examining the counter arguments of conventionalists to have their theory judged by its consequences

Dasenbrock shows how damaging this antiobjectivism and anti intentionalism have been for literary studies Language
