American Visions of Europe John Lamberton Harper, 1996-06-13 This book is a biographical study of three American statesmen concentrating on the development of their distinct attitudes and political programs with respect to the problem of Europe in American foreign policy Roosevelt's partial internationalism aiming at the retirement of Europe from world politics while avoiding American entanglement Kennan's partial isolationism aspiring to restore Europe's centrality and autonomy through temporary American engagement and Acheson's accommodating interventionism establishing the United States as a permanent power in Europe at the behest of European and American interests The purpose of the book is to explain how and why they arrived at very different solutions to the problem of internecine conflict in Europe and to show the continuing relevance of their ideas Three learned and elegantly written portraits are set against the background of the dramatic events and foreign policy controversies of the twentieth century
