Architecture, Power and Religion in Lebanon Ward Vloeberghs, 2015-11-24 In Architecture Power and Religion in Lebanon Ward Vloeberghs explores Rafiq Hariri's patronage and his posthumous legacy to demonstrate how religious architecture becomes a site for power struggles in contemporary Beirut By tracing the 150 year long history of the Muhammad al Amin Mosque Lebanon's principal Sunni mosque and the subsequent development of the site as a commemoration venue this account offers a unique illustration of how architecture religion and power become discursively and visually entangled Set in a multi confessional society marked by social inequalities and political fragmentation this interdisciplinary study analyses how architectural practice and urban reconfigurations reveal a nascent personality cult communal mourning and the consolidation of political territory in relation to constantly shifting circumstances

Sharing in Developing Countries Akietuwopiribie Opuene Hart,2025-08-07 Political Economy of Power Sharing in Developing Countries is an in depth examination of factors that trigger the clamor for power sharing zoning and rotation in mostly developing countries These provocations include geographical ethnic and religious identity factors that can influence the political process in varying degrees from country to country The impact goes a long way in determining the stability and instability of the political process in various countries The reasons for these differences and the impacts are a combination of the endogenous variables in the first instance which are the primary prompters Other elements which are the exogenous factors are secondary prompters When these converge they produce a peculiar impact in a given society based on the characteristic variables and the resulting outcome The new paradigm shifts in the agitation in developing countries is demonstrated by an elitist instrument of marginalization and self aggrandizement The masses are hoodwinked sensitized and manipulated through primal sentiment to support the elites in acquiring political power which in turn enables the acquisition of economic power Architects Without Frontiers Esther Charlesworth,2007-01-18 From the targeted demolition of

Mostar s Stari Most Bridge in 1993 to the physical and social havoc caused by the 2004 Boxing Day Tsunami the history of cities is often a history of destruction and reconstruction But what political and aesthetic criteria should guide us in the rebuilding of cities devastated by war and natural calamities The title of this timely and inspiring new book Architects Without Frontiers points to the potential for architects to play important roles in post war relief and reconstruction By working sans fronti res Charlesworth suggests that architects and design professionals have a significant opportunity to assist peace making and reconstruction efforts in the period immediately after conflict or disaster when much of the housing hospital educational transport civic and business infrastructure has been destroyed or badly damaged Through selected case studies Charlesworth examines the role of architects planners urban designers and landscape architects in three cities following conflict Beirut Nicosia and Mostar three cities where the mental and physical scars of violent conflict still remain This book expands the traditional role of the architect from hero to peacemaker and discusses how design educators can stretch their wings to encompass the proliferating agendas and sites of civil unrest A Social History of Modern Tehran Ashkan Rezvani Naraghi,2023-01-05 Outlines how Tehran s social spaces were transformed by shifting discourses and practices from the nineteenth to the mid twentieth century Politics, Culture and the Lebanese Diaspora Nathalie Nahas, Paul Tabar, 2010-07-12 This book is a collection of essays that were originally presented at a conference at the Lebanese American University in late May 2007 entitled Politics Culture and the Lebanese Diaspora It looks at various facets of the Lebanese Diaspora and examines the politics and culture of Lebanese migrants and their descendants in different parts of the world while detailing the communal national and transnational elements of these practices and exploring the changing characteristics of politics and culture in respect to migration Diaspora and globalization The essays raise questions about the incompatible and interpenetrating relationships between these dynamics and analyze processes of identity formation as cultural manifestations of migratory politics The book is divided into three main sections The first section deals with issues of identity and multiculturalism among Lebanese emigrants concluding that identities are continuously molded and negotiated in the diaspora It examines the formation of identities among second and third generation migrants and the changing conceptions of the meaning of roots and homelands The second section deals with politics and activism in the Diaspora It looks at how diasporas relate to the political processes in their homelands during post conflict resolution and explores the role of Lebanese migrants abroad in the process of peace building back home The third part deals with the Diaspora in literature and media through the assessment of key writings on the explorations of self of the Lebanese abroad drawing on how symbols of identification and conventions of representation become sites of conflict over time The wide variety of perspectives presented in these papers invite us to challenge the notion of a fixed bounded and rigid homeland and identity and move towards one that is more nomadic and fluid They call us to pay attention to the symbols used in the cultural construction of both homelands and identities in the country of immigration and to think of the complex ways in which transnational politics affect the homeland and are in turn affected by it The Government and Politics of Lebanon Imad Salamey, 2013-10-15 Aiming to contribute to the reader's greater understanding of Lebanese government and politics this book provides a comprehensive examination of the origin development and institutionalization of sectarian consociationalism in Lebanon A recurrent proposition advanced in this book is that Lebanese sectarian consociationalism has been both a cure and a curse in the formulation of political settlements and institution building On the one hand and in contrast to many surrounding Arab regimes consociational arrangements have provided the country with a relative democratic political life A limited government with a strong confessional division of power and a built in checks and balance mechanism prevented the emergence of dictatorship or monarchy On the other hand a chronic weak state has complicated efforts for nation building in favour of sectarian fragmentation external interventions and strong polarization that periodically brought the country to the verge of total collapse and civil war While examining Lebanese sectarian politics of conflict and concession during different historic junctures many revelations are made that underlie the role of domestic and international forces shaping the country's future Presenting an implicit description of the power and functions of the various branches of government within the context of sectarian consociationalism this book is an important introductory text for students of Lebanese Politics and Middle Eastern politics more broadly Lebanon and the Arab Uprisings Maximilian Felsch, Martin Wählisch, 2016-06-23 The Arab uprisings have put Lebanon under increased strain While the revolutions in Tunisia and Egypt caused limited reverberations the war in Syria echoed in the fine tuned political and confessional balance of Lebanon Over one million refugees equal to one quarter of Lebanon's population have moved in from Syria The country's economy and its already weak public infrastructure have been impacted heavily Hizbullah's engagement in Syria has posed questions about Lebanon's disassociation policy Terrorist attacks by ISIL and the growing risk of radicalization across the confessional spectrum have left the country at unease However Lebanon's political elites have vowed to shield the country from regional turbulences Lebanon recently saw a series of demonstrations because of the inability of the government to manage the garbage crisis but it has been far from witnessing a large scale citizen uprising similar to the 2005 Cedar Revolution or the revolts next door This book provides a comprehensive overview of the current situation in Lebanon and a detailed assessment of the difficulties which the country is currently facing Constitutionalism in Islamic Countries: Between Upheaval and Continuity Rainer Grote, Tilmann J. Röder, 2012-02-16 Constitutionalism in Islamic Countries Between Upheaval and Continuity offers a comprehensive analysis of the issues associated with the theory and practice of constitutionalism in Islamic countries This collection of essays is written by leading constitutional and comparative law scholars and constitutional practitioners and essays provide readers with an overview of the constitutional developments in countries in the Islamic world an understanding of the potential and actual impact of Islam and Sharia on the notion of modern constitutionalism and insight into the ways in which Western ideals may be reconciled with Islamic tradition Cities and Islamisms Bülent Batuman, 2020-12-21 This book sheds light on a particular facet of the link between politics and Islam through the analysis of the relationship between Islamism and the built environment The relationship between Islam and politics has always been controversial yet it has possibly never been as controversial as it is at the time of writing This new edited volume sets out to explore the interactions between Islamisms and the built environment through issues such as spatial negotiations between nation and Islam in the definition of national identity everyday spaces and the making of Islamic milieus the role of Islam in the making and or remaking of state ideology via architecture and urban planning the influence of globalization and transnational links on the spatial manifestations of Islamism and transnational architectural exchanges through global Islam It expands on these issues through case studies analysing the role of the built environment and the urban realm as major media in the making of Islamist politics The case studies incorporate manifestations in Muslim dominated countries including those where Islam has been at the heart of state ideology Pakistan and Brunei those with influential grassroots Islamist networks pre revolutionary Iran and Indonesia those that identify with Islam through global exchanges United Arab Emirates Kazakhstan and Turkey and countries where Islam is an increasingly significant reference

Middle Eastern Civilization Gerard Jenner, The Middle East stands as one of humanity s most significant crossroads a region where three continents converge and where the earliest civilizations first flourished along the banks of great rivers This geographic positioning between Europe Asia and Africa has shaped the region s destiny as a bridge between worlds a meeting place of cultures religions and empires that continues to influence global affairs today Understanding the Middle East requires grappling with this fundamental reality of geographic centrality and its profound implications for the region s historical development and contemporary challenges The term Middle East itself reflects a Western perspective originally coined by British naval strategist Alfred Thayer Mahan in 1902 to describe the region between the Near East of the Ottoman Empire and the Far East of China and Japan This nomenclature reveals the colonial context in which much Middle Eastern studies developed highlighting the importance of examining the region through multiple lenses that include indigenous perspectives and narratives Alternative terms like Southwest Asia or the Arabic al Mashriq and al Maghrib offer different conceptual frameworks that emphasize regional rather than external viewpoints Geographically the Middle East encompasses the vast expanse from Morocco in the west to Iran in the east from Turkey in the north to Yemen in the south though scholars debate the precise boundaries This region includes the Arabian Peninsula the Fertile Crescent Anatolia the Iranian Plateau and North Africa each with distinct topographical features that have influenced settlement patterns economic development and political organization The presence of major mountain ranges like the Zagros Taurus and Atlas Mountains has created natural barriers and corridors that shaped migration routes and cultural exchange patterns throughout history
