Shared Mass Trauma in Social Work Ann Goelitz, 2022-08-25 This edited volume looks at the phenomenon of shared trauma and how it affects social workers and their clients alike Bringing together established voices from the field of social work Shared Mass Trauma in Social Work presents ideas of how to provide resilient care and practice while social workers and their clients are both experiencing the same mass trauma Social workers are often on the front line when community trauma occurs and the boundary between their experiences and those of clients can become blurred In this timely resource Ann Goelitz and the contributors aim to share both their findings and evidence based tools to help professionals look after themselves and their clients in times of turmoil Beginning by setting a conceptual framework for shared trauma and reviewing related research the contributors discuss the concept as it relates to events such as the coronavirus pandemic climate change and natural disasters police brutality and racism and war and terrorism Filled with case studies that bring the text to life chapters then move to the modalities of psychotherapy group work and community organizing before concluding with reflections and lessons learnt for future practice The glossary of terms sample syllabus and practical exercises to support training social workers are a bonus for educators Shared Mass Trauma in Social Work incorporates specific implications trauma informed care social work principles and practical tips to support training and established clinicians working in unprecedented circumstances The SAGE Handbook of International Social Work Karen H Lyons, Terry Hokenstad, Manohar

Pawar, Nathalie Huegler, Nigel Hall, 2012-05-18 Social work is a profession that is increasingly involved with issues which have a global dimension This Handbook tackles the global local aspect of social work in its various forms and interrogates the key concerns that societies are facing through an international lens The contributors show that with an appreciation of commonalities and differences local practices and appropriate forms of international activity can be better developed Areas covered include Analysis of International social work Globalisation and indigenisation Social justice and human rights Poverty and livelihoods Ecological issues Migration Education theory research and practice Social work in different settings Religion and spirituality Responses to disasters and conflicts Life course perspectives Regional perspectives Future directions With a truly international range of contributions the Handbook incorporates perspectives from Asia Africa Europe Australasia the Middle East and the Americas It will be an invaluable resource for undergraduates postgraduates researchers and academics working in the fields of social work social welfare human services and community development worldwide as well as service providers and policy makers in the international arena Recovery from the Indian Ocean Tsunami Disaster Rajib Shaw, 2006 Social Work Practice in Mental Health Abraham Francis, Paula La Rosa, Lakshmi Sankaran, S.P.

Rajeev, 2014-11-27 This book represents the sharing of knowledge and experiences that is cross cultural cross disciplinary and across countries It aims bringing to the social work practitioner a wealth of understanding about situations practices and cultures that could not possibly have been experienced first hand about mental health The book provides cross cultural perspectives on recovery strengths based practice mindfulness disaster mental health community mental health and other related aspects These contributions from across the world from different cultures and from vastly different experiences are a celebration of the global practice of social work The series of chapters in this book makes a contribution to a deeper understanding of various facets of social work in mental health The complexities elucidated here can be addressed by embracing the power of teamwork the power of visionary leadership and the power of reflexivity The book offers an opportunity for practitioners to explore all these in detail Disaster and Crisis Management Naim Kapucu, Arjen Boin, 2017-10-02 A wide range of natural hazards pose major risks to the lives and livelihoods of large populations around the world Man made disasters caused by technological failures industrial accidents spillages explosions and fires compound this threat Since 9 11 security threats based on violence terrorism insurgency and civil strife have attracted much governmental attention and a great deal of public resources As the scale frequency and intensity of disasters and crises have dramatically increased over the last decade the failures in responding to these crises have prompted a critical need to evaluate the way in which the public sector responds to disaster What have we learned What has changed in the management of disasters and crises What do we know about the causes patterns and consequences of these events This book looks at some of the approaches that can be taken to empirically examine disaster and crisis management practices It contributes to the literature on crisis and disaster management as well as social policy and planning Introducing approaches that are applicable to a variety of circumstances in the U S and in other countries it offers ways to think through policy interventions and governance mechanisms that may enhance societal resilience This book was originally published as a special issue of Public Management Review American Book Publishing Record ,2006 Rebuilding Asia Following Natural Disasters Patrick Daly, R. Michael Feener, 2016-04-06 Providing a detailed and comparative assessment of the humanitarian responses to a series of major disasters in Asia over the past two decades including massive earthquakes volcanic eruptions and tsunamis this book explores complex and changing understandings and practices of relief recovery and reconstruction These critical investigations raise questions about the position and responsibilities of a growing range of stakeholders and provide in depth explorations of the ways in which local communities are transformed on multiple levels not only by the impact of disaster events but also by the experiences of rebuilding This timely volume highlights how the experiences of Asia can contribute towards post disaster responses globally to safeguard future communities and reduce vulnerabilities This is a valuable resource for academic researchers interested in post disaster transformations and development studies practitioners in NGOs and government officials dealing with disaster response and disaster risk reduction Rebuilding Sustainable Communities for Children and their Families after Disasters Adenrele Awotona, 2009-12-14 Disasters impose enormous misery on children the most vulnerable members of the community Records show that two million children have died as a direct consequence of armed conflict over the past decade Globally millions more have suffered death disease and dislocation as a result of such natural disasters as earthquakes droughts and floods And even when emergency relief is available permanent human damage remains all too often families fall apart women are assaulted and degraded and children are left to take care of themselves In November 2008 the Center for Rebuilding Sustainable Communities after Disasters at the University of Massachusetts Boston USA hosted an international conference to examine how to reconstruct sustainable communities that would be safe and secure for children and their families after disasters This volume collects some of the papers that were presented at the conference It is remarkable for the sheer assortment of topics covered These include the role of gender equality in alleviating poverty and assisting children their families and their communities after disasters war and child soldiers lessons from Hurricane Katrina and the Tsunami the nature of psychosocial resilience and its significance for managing mass emergencies disasters and terrorism and the promotion of human dignity in the creation of sustainable environments that empower families in the aftermath of disasters Social Work Practice During Times of Disaster Lena Dominelli, 2023-08-01 Disasters affect people individually and collectively in their communities national societies and the international sphere and in any setting from the home to the planetary level Furthermore these disasters can be complex multi layered and what happens in one location can affect sentient beings elsewhere directly and or indirectly These create interdependencies between people the flora fauna and physical environment that require the holistic transdisciplinary approaches to disasters that are advocated by green social work perspectives Using case studies drawn from practice and research to explore the skills and knowledge needed by social workers to practice within disaster situations this book illustrates what good social work practice during times of disaster looks like It highlights the theories skills and expertise needed to intervene effectively in specific disaster situations and provides case studies as a major vehicle for considering ethical dilemmas and skills sets that facilitate interventions in specific disasters Part One focuses on disasters that afflict the UK where social workers may be part of the emergency response including floods droughts cold snaps windstorms storm surges fires chemical discharges terrorism and Covid 19 And given the interdependent nature of disasters this section also draws upon knowledge from the international sphere to show how the local and global are interlinked Part Two considers disasters that dominate in other parts of the world but which have impacts upon the UK either because its personnel go overseas to provide humanitarian aid or because the victim survivors of such disasters seek sanctuary in migrate to the UK These disasters include refugees from earthquakes volcanic eruptions hurricanes armed conflict and climate change The ethical dilemmas that social workers face during all disasters are particularly poignant in the case of asylum seekers and refugees This book will be of interest to all social work professionals practitioners in emergency and health settings working with social workers academics and students both in the UK and around the world Organising Post-Disaster Reconstruction Processes Fatemeh Farnaz Arefian, 2018-02-15 Through a synthesis of a broader inter disciplinary literature in the field of disaster studies organisation theory and management and an in depth case study this book provides an analytical framework for organising post disaster reconstruction programmes which aim to reduce future disaster risks and achieve other objectives It explores the role of organisational design and management on approaching and achieving the objectives of the reconstruction programme in Iran after the 2003 Bam earthquake The housing reconstruction programme in Bam was a complex case offering various learning opportunities to understand organising reconstruction processes especially in urban areas The case study research explores how the urban housing reconstruction programme system was formed purposefully towards the delivery of the stated objectives and created an innovative housing process throughout the urban area It identifies consistencies and inconsistencies among the influential organisational attributes of the programme delivery system formation The system evolved through corrective adjustments either formally or informally during its implementation to reflect unfolding consequences of inconsistencies in initial formation and emerging contextual issues in the field

The Tsunami of 2004 in Sri Lanka Ragnhild Lund, Piers Blaikie, 2013-10-18 This book is based on empirical research in Sri Lanka conducted after the catastrophic tsunami which hit the country in December 2004 The aims of the research have been to develop new knowledge on post crisis reconstruction and recovery work on how to bridge the knowledge gap between researchers and practitioners as well as trying to use past research experiences from Sri Lanka to learn about the present day situation The chapters use a common analytical frame related to the policy narratives of post tsunami recovery in the shadow of war and deal with housing reconstruction livelihoods internally displaced humanitarian interventions and protracted conflicts The authors represent various social scientific fields and they have experience from different geographical areas of Sri Lanka This book was published as a special issue of Norsk Geografisk Tidsskrift

The Conference Organizing Committees October 24 25 2013 Beijing China Cultural Psychology of Coping with Disasters Manfred Zaumseil, Silke Schwarz, Mechthild von Vacano, Gavin Brent Sullivan, Johana E.

Prawitasari-Hadiyono, 2013-11-21 This book offers a broad theoretical foundation by relating and contrasting relevant international literature with the outcomes of a particular research project It provides a critical reevaluation of the complex phenomena of coping with disasters on a general level by applying this integrative theory of disaster coping to a specific context A cultural psychological model is developed in order to suggest ways of understanding and assessing local and cultural specificity This interaction of the general and locally specific is central to our understanding of cultural psychology of coping with disaster The book provides a basic overview by presenting various approaches to coping with natural disasters and relating them to each other in a coherent manner So far most research approaches either focus on technical social psychological or cultural aspects of coping neglecting their interconnectedness Coping is seldom seen as an extensive long term process in which disaster relief complexly interacts and is integrated with the local actors and conditions Until now a perspective is missing in which the mentioned modes of coping are integrated with cultural interpretations and practices and long standing forms of communal self help which possibly develop in places that are frequently threatened by natural disasters Disaster Risk Reduction in Asia Pacific Helen James, Rajib Shaw, Vinod Sharma, Anna

Lukasiewicz, 2022-04-19 This book brings together interdisciplinary perspectives from across the Asia Pacific region covering four main sections 1 Governance 2 Education and Capacity 3 Science Technology Risk Assessment and Communities and 4 Recovery The chapters address different dimensions of Sendai Framework of Disaster Risk Reduction SFDRR which are linked to Sustainable Development Goals as well as Paris Agreement on Climate Change
