African Cities Alternative Visions Of Urban Theory And Practice:

African Cities Professor Garth Myers, 2011-04-14 In this groundbreaking book Garth Myers uses African urban concepts and experiences to speak back to theoretical and practical concerns. He argues for a re-visioning, a seeing again and a revising of how cities in Africa are discussed and written about in both urban studies and African studies. Cities in Africa are still either ignored, banished to a different, other, lesser category of not quite cities, or held up as examples of all that can go wrong with urbanism in much of the mainstream and even critical urban literature. Myers instead encourages African studies and urban studies scholars across the world to engage with the vibrancy and complexity of African cities with fresh eyes. Touching on a diverse range of cities across Africa from Zanzibar to Nairobi, Cape Town to Mogadishu, Kinshasa to Dakar, the book uses the author's own research and a close reading of works by other scholars, writers and artists to help illuminate what is happening in and across the region's cities.

African Cities Garth Andrew Myers, 2011 African Cities and the Development Conundrum Carole Ammann, Till Förster, 2018-10-16 This 10th thematic volume of International Development Policy presents a collection of articles exploring some of the complex development challenges associated with Africa's recent but extremely rapid pace of urbanisation that challenges still predominant but misleading images of Africa as a rural continent. Analysing urban settings through the diverse experiences and perspectives of inhabitants and stakeholders in cities across the continent, the authors consider the evolution of international development policy responses amidst the unique historical, social, economic and political contexts of Africa's urban development. Contributors include Carole Ammann, Claudia Baez Camargo, Claire Binit Gbaffou, Karen Bischer, Aba Ogburn, Crensil Sascha Delz, Ton Dietz, Till Förster, Lucy Koechlin, Lalli Metsola, Garth Myers, George Owusu, Edgar Pieterse, Sebastian Prothmann, Warren Smit and Florian Stoll.

Everyday Urban Practices in Africa Nadine Appelhans, Carmel Rawhani, Marie Huchzermeyer, Basirat Oyalowo, Mfaniseni Fana Sihlongonyane, 2024-08-14 This book disrupts the dominant underlying international norms informing urban development strategies across African cities. International policy frameworks have created a new universal agenda for developing cities. However, these frameworks have also imposed global paradigms and discourses that are often in conflict with local urbanisms. As we approach the deadline for achieving the Sustainable Development Goals, there is a need for reflection and deliberation on a post-2030 agenda. The authors identify powerful assumptions, norms and positionalities that obfuscate the efforts to achieve sustainable development in African cities as well as along the North-South divide. They argue that a disruptive critique of these normative concepts grounded in the lived African urban everyday opens up opportunities to dismantle their assumed neutrality. Through disruption, the authors critically re-interpret the meanings of policy and the praxis of local urbanism, ultimately challenging the logic of universalising concepts underpinning implementation in the current international policy system and asserting the need for contextualised urban policies. The book will be of interest to scholars and students of urban studies, development planning, urban governance, human settlements, development studies.

Women and the Informal Economy in Urban Africa Mary Njeri Kinyanjui, 2014-06-12 In this highly original work Mary Njeri Kinyanjui explores the trajectory of women s movement from the margins of urbanization into the centres of business activities in Nairobi and its accompanying implications for urban planning While women in much of Africa have struggled to gain urban citizenship and continue to be weighed down by poor education low income and confinement to domestic responsibilities due to patriarchic norms a new form of urban dynamism partly informed by the informal economy is now enabling them to manage poverty create jobs and link to the circuits of capital and labour Relying on social ties reciprocity sharing and collaboration women s informal solidarity entrepreneurialism is taking them away from the margins of business activity and catapulting them into the centre Bringing together key issues of gender economic informality and urban planning in Africa Kinyanjui demonstrates that women have become a critical factor in the making of a postcolonial city

The Oxford Handbook of Cities in World History Peter Clark, 2013-02-14 In 2008 for the first time the majority of the planet s inhabitants lived in cities and towns Becoming globally urban has been one of mankind s greatest collective achievements over time Written by leading scholar this is the first detailed survey of the world s cities and towns from ancient times to the present day

The Infrastructural South Jonathan Silver, 2023-10-10 An in depth look at the infrastructural landscape of Africa amid the third wave of urbanization drawing on case studies from Africa and extending further afield The Infrastructural South represents a major theoretical contribution to the study of infrastructure s role in the third wave of urbanization centered on Africa Based on over a decade of empirical research Silver s sweeping examination probes many of contemporary urbanism s most exciting and pressing issues through the lens of the Global South Focusing on Uganda Ghana and South Africa Silver s conceptually innovative chapters explore the way access to energy water sanitation transit and information technologies shape everyday life as they map the dynamic relations between cities technology and the environment Pushing readers to look at the wider worlds that suffuse urban systems this theoretical and geographical perspective treats Africa s rapidly transforming towns and cities as complex sites of disruption emancipation and contradiction In doing so it shows how the proliferating urbanisms and contested techno environments arise from shifting priorities in infrastructure planning politics and financing gaps As urban issues become a key twenty first century challenge for Africa Silver offers a comprehensive reworking of our understanding of urbanization The Infrastructural South rethinks how global scholarship approaches infrastructure laying pathways for future research at the intersection of technology environmental urbanism and urban politics

COVID-19 Lockdowns and the Urban Poor in Harare, Zimbabwe Johannes Itai Bhanye,Fortune Mangara,Abraham R. Matamanda,Lameck Kachena,2023-12-09 This book focuses on the socio economic impacts of the COVID 19 pandemic and associated lockdowns on the welfare of the urban poor in the city of Harare Zimbabwe The authors look through the lenses of the urban health penalty the right to the city complexity theory and distributive justice theory These four theories help situate the COVID 19 pandemic and its impacts on the urban poor in the theoretical foundations that raise issues of how the poor are affected by disease health pandemics due to their living conditions Uniquely the authors use remote ethnography tools such as rich texts video diaries and photo uploads to provide evidence based stories of how COVID 19 mobility restrictions have affected poor urbanites in Harare The book concludes that the COVID 19 pandemic mandatory lockdowns have deepened social and spatial inequality among the urban poor threatening their right to the city The socio economic impacts can upsurge poverty increase unemployment and the risks of hunger and food insecurity reinforce existing inequalities and break social harmony in the cities even past the COVID 19 pandemic period These socioeconomic impacts must be considered to make just cities for all from a right to the city perspective The authors recommend that mandatory COVID 19 lockdowns should not only be treated as a law and order operation but as a medical intervention to stem the spread of the virus backed by measures to safeguard the livelihoods of the urban poor while also protecting the economy This means governments should provide social safety nets to informal sector operators whose income generating activities are affected the most during the time of emergencies like COVID 19 Planners and policymakers should re envision pandemic resilient cities that are just equitable resilient and sustainable Africa's Urban Revolution

Doctor Edgar Pieterse,Susan Parnell,2014-01-09 The facts of Africa s rapid urbanisation are startling By 2030 African cities will have grown by more than 350 million people and over half the continent's population will be urban Yet in the minds of policy makers scholars and much of the general public Africa remains a quintessentially rural place This lack of awareness and robust analysis means it is difficult to make a policy case for a more overtly urban agenda As a result there is across the continent insufficient urgency directed to responding to the challenges and opportunities associated with the world's last major wave of urbanisation Drawing on the expertise of scholars and practitioners associated with the African Centre for Cities and utilising a diverse array of case studies Africa's Urban Revolution provides a comprehensive insight into the key issues demographic cultural political technical environmental and economic surrounding African urbanisation
