Why we have developed this resource

Maths is a key subject in the curriculum and is essential for the development of a child's mathematical skills. However, many teachers find it challenging to assess their students' understanding of maths effectively. This resource is designed to help teachers develop their assessment strategies and ensure that they are using the most effective methods to assess their students' learning.

The resource includes 18 practical examples of assessment strategies, tools and resources that can be used in the classroom. These examples are designed to be easy to use and adapt to different contexts and needs.

Assessment is at the heart of our learning programme. It is a key tool for teachers to use to assess their students' understanding of maths and to identify areas where they need further support. This resource provides teachers with a range of assessment strategies that can be used to assess their students' learning in a variety of ways.

The resource also includes a range of tools and resources that can be used to support teachers in their assessment practice. These include a range of templates, checklists and other resources that can be used to help teachers plan and deliver their assessment practice.

By using this resource, teachers can ensure that they are using the most effective methods to assess their students' learning and that they are providing them with the support they need to succeed in maths.

Setting Assessment Rules

Teachers should set clear rules for assessment from the beginning of the year. These rules should be communicated to students and should be consistent across all classes. The rules should cover the following areas:

- Assessment strategy - Teachers should use a range of assessment strategies to assess their students' learning. These should include formative assessment, summative assessment and peer assessment.

- Assessment tools - Teachers should use a range of assessment tools to assess their students' learning. These should include quizzes, tests, projects, and assignments.

- Assessment resources - Teachers should use a range of assessment resources to assess their students' learning. These should include textbooks, worksheets, and other resources.

The following table provides a range of practical examples of assessment strategies, tools and resources that can be used in the classroom.

Assessment Strategy	Assessment Tool	Assessment Resource
Formative assessment	Quizzes	Textbooks
Summative assessment	Tests	Worksheets
Peer assessment	Projects	Assignments
Self-assessment	Assignments	Textbooks
Assessment for learning	Quizzes	Worksheets
Assessment as learning	Tests	Assignments
Assessment of learning	Projects	Textbooks
