The Floating Opera And The End Of The Road By John Barth:

The Floating Opera and The End of the Road John Barth, 1988 Tells the stories of a man's struggle with the idea of suicide and of a bed hopping threesome brought together by a strange doctor psychiatrist mentor "The Floating Opera" at "The End of the Road" Felicitas Graf, 1995 John Barth David Morrell, 2015-12-16 In 1969 while David Morrell was writing First Blood the novel in which Rambo was created he also wrote his doctoral dissertation about acclaimed author John Barth In it Morrell analyses Barth's early fiction using interviews with Barth his agent and his editors as well as several of Barth's unpublished essays and letters to tell what Morrell calls the story behind the stories a biography of Barth's fiction Over the years scholars have found John Barth An Introduction invaluable for its lengthy biographical sections which Barth himself approved Fans of Morrell's fiction will find this book enlightening in terms of what Barth taught him about writing CRITICAL REACTION David Morrell's not just a fine writer he's also a great and generous teacher New York Times bestselling author Lawrence Sanders Morrell has written an interesting and informative book which reads occasionally like a biography His prose is eminently clear and straightforward His book has something for everyone There is no doubt that it will become a necessity for serious students of Barth and that coincidentally it is a genuinely interesting book Journal of Modern Literature Morrell's study tells the story of Barth's storytelling how he got his ideas and then how the publishers and reviewers dealt with them He includes detailed biographical information and writes with great economy and clarity Modern Fiction Studies Morrell gives the reader the benefit of his familiarity with Barth and his manuscripts to plot the career of each work from plans and in some cases research through revision publisher agent reactions sales and post publication revisions The whole enterprise is carried off with appealing confidence and informality that add up to an eminently readable book World Literature Today John Barth (Routledge Revivals) Heide Ziegler, 2014-10-10 John Barth represents most completely what has been termed postmodernism not because his work comprises more postmodernist features than other contemporary writers but because for Barth life and art are two sides of the same coin In this brief study first published in 1987 Heide Ziegler examines all Barth's novels She argues that each pair of novels first exhausts and then replenishes those literary genres that hinge on a particular world view the existentialist novel the Bildungsroman the Künstlerroman or the realistic novel Through the division of labour between character and author Barth manages to develop a new mode of literary parody which projects itself beyond the mocked literary model and even self parody into the realm of future fiction This book is ideal for students of literature and postmodern studies Romantic Postmodernism in American Fiction Eberhard Alsen, 2023-12-21 Intended for teachers and students of American Literature this book is the first comprehensive analysis of romantic tendencies in postmodernist American fiction The book challenges the opinion expressed in the Columbia History of the American Novel 1991 and propagated by many influential scholars that the mainstream of postmodernist fiction is represented by the disjunctive and nihilistic work of such writers as Kathy Acker Donald Barthelme and Robert Coover

Professor Alsen disagrees He contends that this kind of fiction is not read and taught much outside an isolated but powerful circle in the academic community It is the two part thesis of Professor Alsen s book that the mainstream of postmodernist fiction consists of the widely read work of the Nobel Prize laureates Saul Bellow and Toni Morrison and other similar writers and that this mainstream fiction is essentially romantic To support his argument Professor Alsen analyzes representative novels by Saul Bellow J D Salinger Norman Mailer Flannery O Connor John Updike Kurt Vonnegut Philip Roth Thomas Pynchon Toni Morrison the later John Barth Alice Walker William Kennedy and Paul Auster Professor Alsen demonstrates that the traits which distinguish the fiction of the romantic postmodernists from the fiction of their disunctive and nihilist colleagues include a vision of life that is a form of philosophical idealism an organic view of art modes of storytelling that are reminiscent of the nineteenth century romance and such themes as the nature of sin or evil the negative effects of technology on the soul and the quest for transcendence

John Barth and the Anxiety of Continuance Patricia Tobin, 2016-11-11 During the sixties and seventies the fictional reinventions of John Barth along with his misread and influential essay The Literature of Exhaustion established the comic novelist as a leading practitioner and theorist of what was then coming to be called postmodern literature In more recent years however Barth s reputation has been called into question within the ongoing critical debate over the criterion of originality and the status of literary repetition imitation and parody In her spirited defense of Barth Patricia Tobin employs Harold Bloom s theory of belatedness to confront and explode this issue For Bloom the later the artist the greater the burden of the past against which he must rebel and the more hopeless his task However Tobin argues Barth revels in his belatedness and celebrates the opportunity to survey a rich literary past and to bring back to life its dead forms genres and styles by completing fulfilling and exhausting them Not a retrospective and negative anxiety of influence then but a wholly prospective and positive anxiety of continuance has propelled Barth through a distinguished career Throughout Tobin elaborates the conjunctions and disjunctions between Bloom and Barth with surprising results Most notable perhaps is her examination of how Bloom s model of a map of misreading helps to elucidate and even predict the ways in which Barth sets each new novel in antithetical relation to the one before Along the way much is said about modernism and postmodernism repetition and difference and what it means poetically and willfully to intend a career John Barth and the Anxiety of Continuance will be of interest to scholars of American fiction and critical theory

Passionate Virtuosity Charles B. Harris,1983 Fiction in the Quantum Universe Susan Strehle,2000-11-09 In this outstanding book Susan Strehle argues that a new fiction has developed from the influence of modern physics She calls this new fiction actualism and within that framework she offers a critical analysis of major novels by Thomas Pynchon Robert Coover William Gaddis John Barth Margaret Atwood and Donald Barthelme According to Strehle the actualists balance attention to questions of art with an engaged meditation on the external actual world While these actualist novels diverge markedly from realistic practice Strehle claims that they do so in order to reflect more acutely what we now understand as real Reality is no longer realistic in the new physical or quantum universe reality is discontinuous energetic relative statistical subjectively seen and uncertainly known all terms taken from new physics Actualist fiction is characterized by incompletions indeterminacy and open endings unsatisfying to the readerly wish for fulfilled promises and completed patterns Gravity s Rainbow for example ends not with a period but with a dash Strehle argues that such innovations in narrative reflect on twentieth century history politics science and discourse

American Fiction and the Metaphysics of the Grotesque Dieter Meindl,1996 By synthesizing Kayser s and Bakhtin s views of the grotesque and Heidegger s philosophy of Being American Fiction and the Metaphysics of the Grotesque seeks to demonstrate that American fiction from Poe to Pynchon has tried to convey the existential dimension the pre individual totality or flow of life which defines itself against the mind and its linguistic capacity Dieter Meindl shows how the grotesque through its self contradictory nature has been instrumental in expressing this reality conception an antirationalist stance in basic agreement with existential thought The historical validity of this new metaphysics which grants precedence to Being the context of cognition over the cognizant subject must be upheld in the face of deconstructive animadversions upon any metaphysics of presence The notion of decentering the subject Meindl argues did not originate with deconstruction The existential grotesque confirms the protomodernist character of classic American fiction Meindl traces its course through a number of well known texts by Melville James Gilman Anderson Faulkner and O Connor among others To convey life conceived as motion these writers had to capture that is immobilize it in their art an essentially distortive and therefore grotesque device Melville s Bartleby dealing with a mort vivant is the seminal text in this mode of indirectness As opposed to the existential grotesque which grants access to a preverbal realm the linguistic grotesque of postmodern fiction works on the assumption that all reality is referable to language in a textual universe American Fiction and the Metaphysics of the Grotesque will significantly alter our understanding of certain traditions in American literature

Faulkner and Postmodernism John Noel Duvall,Ann J. Abadie,2002 Since the 1960s William Faulkner Mississippi s most famous author has been recognized as a central figure of international modernism But might Faulkner s fiction be understood in relation to Thomas Pynchon s Gravity s Rainbow as well as James Joyce s Ulysses In eleven essays from the 1999 Faulkner and Yoknapatawpha Conference held at the University of Mississippi Faulkner and Postmodernism examines William Faulkner and his fiction in light of postmodern literature culture and theory The volume explores the variety of ways Faulkner s art can be used to measure similarities and differences between modernism and postmodernism Essays in the collection fall into three categories those that use Faulkner s novels as a way to mark a period distinction between modernism and postmodernism those that see postmodern tendencies in Faulkner s fiction and those that read Faulkner through the lens of postmodern theory s contemporary legacy the field of cultural studies In order to make their particular arguments essays in the collection compare Faulkner to more contemporary novelists such as Ralph Ellison Vladimir Nabokov Thomas Pynchon Walker Percy Richard Ford Toni Morrison and Kathy Acker But not all of the comparisons are to high culture artists since even Elvis Presley becomes Faulkner s foil in one of the essays A variety of theoretical perspectives frame the work in this volume from Fredric Jameson's pessimistic sense of postmodernism's possibilities to Linda Hutcheon's conviction that cultural critique can continue in postmodernism through innovative new forms such as metafiction. Despite the different theoretical premises and distinct conclusions of the individual authors of these essays, Faulkner and Postmodernism proves once again that in the key debates surrounding twentieth-century fiction, Faulkner is a crucial figure. John N. Duvall, an associate professor of English at Purdue University, is the editor of Modern Fiction Studies. Ann J. Abadie is associate director of the Center for the Study of Southern Culture at the University of Mississippi.
